Introduction

July 2019

THIS UPDATED GUIDE is designed to help local government officials understand their responsibilities under the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), Virginia Conflict of Interests Act (COIA) and Virginia Public Records Act.

Each of the acts requires council members, supervisors, and certain other elected and appointed officials to read and familiarize themselves with the three sets of laws.

This 2019 Virginia Municipal League publication explains both laws in non-legal terms as much as possible. It is not written for lawyers, though we hope it will be useful for attorneys, too.

Updates throughout this publication, including those explaining changes in the law made by the 2018 General Assembly, were written by Danielle Powell, Esq., Hefty Wiley & Gore, P.C.

VML encourages city and town council members to consult it when questions arise about the propriety of a course of action.

Virginia Freedom of Information Act

Guide for Local Government Officials

Introduction

The Virginia Freedom of Information Act was enacted by the General Assembly in 1968. In the years since, the law has undergone major revisions and has been modified annually to address new situations.

Local public officials are required to read and familiarize themselves with the law. § 2.2-3702(ii). This guide provides useful assistance in meeting that obligation. Many provisions of the act address state agencies and other matters that do not concern local governments. Those provisions are not discussed. This guide will help local officials become familiar with their obligations under the law.

The Freedom of Information Act Advisory Council (“FOIA Council”), through its staff, provides local officials with timely information about the act that will assist in compliance. Contact information for the staff is found later in this report and can be found at <http://foiacouncil.dls.virginia.gov/>.

This guide has two major sections – meetings of a public body and records of a public body. The term “public body” will be used to generally describe any locally elected public body, such as city and town councils, as well as county boards and committees of all such bodies. Where a difference exists in the act’s requirements for a specific type of local elected public body, the difference is noted.

Purpose of the act

FOIA generally determines how local public bodies must conduct their meetings, from city council sessions to a citizen advisory committee recommending where to locate a new sidewalk. The act also regulates the public’s access to local government records.

The guiding principle of FOIA is openness. The act aims to “[ensure] the people of the Commonwealth ready access to records in the custody of public officials and free entry to meetings of public bodies wherein the business of the people is being conducted.” § 2.2-3700(B). The section further declares that “the affairs of government are not intended to be conducted in an atmosphere of secrecy since at all times the public is to be the beneficiary of any action taken at any level of government.” Id.

Thus, FOIA attempts to ensure that Virginia’s citizens have the ability to observe how their elected public officials are conducting public business.

What’s New

The General Assembly has made changes to the act to make it more relevant to technology. For example, § 2.2-3701 has been amended to clarify the definition of electronic communication to the use of technology having electrical, digital, magnetic, wireless, optical, electromagnetic, or similar capabilities to transmit information. § 42.1-86.01 was also added to the Public Records Act, which provides that notwithstanding any provision of law requiring a public record to be retained in a tangible medium, an agency may retain any public record in an electronic medium, provided that the record remains accessible for the duration of its retention schedule and meets all other requirements of the Virginia Public Record Act.

The General Assembly has also amended §§ 2.2-3800, 2.2-3801, and 2.2-3803 of the Code of Virginia to facilitate the sharing of data among and between agencies of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions.

I. Notices.

All local public bodies shall designate and publicly identify one or more FOIA officers who will be responsible for FOIA requests in their locality. In addition, they must be trained annually by either the FOIA Council or their locality’s attorney. § 2.2-3704.2. The name of the designated officer/officers must be provided to the FOIA Council by July 1st of each year.

Any city or town with a population of more than 250 shall now post rights and responsibilities on their website. § 2.2-3704.1. A template of the rights and responsibilities is available on the FOIA Council website and can be easily adapted to any locality.

Cities and towns with a population of more than 250 shall also include a link on their official government public website to an online public comment form that will be on the FOIA Council's website.

Notice of date, time and location of a public meeting should be posted on the official government website if there is one and also the usual places: in a public location where notices are usually posted and at the office of the clerk or if there is no clerk, the officer of the chief administrator. §2.2-3707.

If a meeting is continued; notice shall be given to the public contemporaneously with the notice to the members of the public body conducting the meeting. §2.2-3708.2.

II. Meetings.

The basic principle of FOIA is that all meetings of public bodies are open to the public. Section §2.2-3700(B) makes this clear:

All public records and meetings shall be presumed open, unless an exemption is properly invoked. The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to promote an increased awareness by all persons of governmental activities and afford every opportunity to citizens to witness the operations of governments. Any exemption from public access to...meetings shall be narrowly construed and no...meeting closed to the public unless specifically made exempt pursuant to this chapter or other specific provision of law.

Nevertheless, the act contains numerous exceptions to the open meeting requirement. Some issues may be discussed in a meeting closed to the public. For instance, public bodies may hold a closed meeting if an open discussion will lead to the release of information that certain other state laws require to be kept secret. See § 2.2-3711(A)(26), (33), (34). Still, the fact that a meeting may be closed does not mean that it must be or even should be closed. Furthermore, any exceptions are to be narrowly construed.

A. Public body.

The open meeting requirements apply whenever a public body holds or participates in a meeting. The definition of "public body" is very broad. See § 2.2-3701. City and town councils and county boards of supervisors obviously are included. All committees and subcommittees are included, whether any members of the local governing body serve on the committee. Citizen committees are included if the committee is charged with either carrying out some function for the public body or advising it. Private police departments are included for the purpose of access to public records. FOIA specifically states that having citizen members does not exempt the body from the act. Id. Accordingly, a citizens' committee formed by the city or town to advise where a park or school should be located would be a public body subject to FOIA.

A committee of a council is a public body, as noted above. Whether the committee is a standing committee or an ad hoc committee, it is subject to the act. If the chair of a four-member finance committee appoints two members to negotiate a contract or to carry out some other role, that subcommittee of the finance committee is also subject to the act.

B. What is a meeting?

City and town council meetings, county board meetings and committee meetings of a public body are certainly meetings regulated by the act. Like the definition of public body, the definition of meeting is broadly construed under § 2.2-3701, intending to capture any meeting where public business is transacted or discussed. A council work session is also a meeting, as is any other "informal assemblage" of as many as three members of a public body (or a quorum, if quorum is less than three members) where public business of the locality is discussed.

FOIA typically applies to public body gatherings irrespective of the meeting's location. It doesn't matter if a meeting is held in the council chambers or at a council retreat held out of the locality.

Attendance at a VML Annual Conference or a National League of Cities meeting is sometimes a touchy subject. Because of the broad definition of public meeting, some councils and boards consider attendance at a state or national conference to be a meeting, and will comply with the notice requirements of the act (discussed below) to be on the safe side, even though there is no plan to discuss the locality's public business. This action sometimes invokes a negative response from the media or citizens who complain that they cannot attend the out-of-town meeting. Conversely, if the council doesn't consider attendance at a conference to be a meeting, then the complaint becomes one that the council has left town for a private or secret meeting. The best practice is to announce the conference at a council meeting, but not describe it as a meeting of the locality, and to strictly avoid discussing town, city, or county business while attending the conference.

A gathering of council does not create a meeting if public business is not discussed or carried out and the gathering was not called for the purpose of doing public business. § 2.2-3701. This section is aimed at allowing participation in community events or parties. Without this section, a citizen could criticize a council for holding a meeting if three members of council happen to show up at a community forum.

The definition of meeting includes a gathering of two or more members of a public body to discuss public business. §2.2-3701. It is not a meeting 1) when the discussion or transaction of any public business is no part or purpose of the gathering or attendance, 2) the gathering was not prearranged for the purpose of public business, or 3) if the attendees are at a public forum, debate, or candidate appearance that is held to inform the electorate and no public business is being transacted, even if the performance of members is a topic of discussion or debate at the gathering. Finally, a meeting of employees for business purposes does not constitute a meeting, under the § 2.2-3701 definition.

Number of public officials needed to constitute a meeting

Obviously, any meeting of a council qualifies as a public meeting. For the purposes of the act, such a council meeting is created if a majority of council, or three members, regardless of how many are needed for a majority, get together and discuss public business. § 2.2-3701. Therefore, if three members of a council meet to discuss or act on government business, that creates a council meeting for purposes of FOIA, even if it is not a meeting per the locality's rules.

In contrast, if the three members are on a committee and meet as the committee, that meeting is a committee meeting, not a council meeting. If additional council members attend a committee meeting, that does not necessarily convert the meeting from a committee meeting to a council meeting. This was established in a Winchester Circuit Court opinion in Shenandoah Publishing House, Inc. v. Winchester City Council, 37 Va. Cir 149 (1995).

Notice provisions

General notice requirements that are spelled out in the act must be followed in order to hold any meeting of a public body. The state code also contains numerous specific notice and advertising requirements for particular types of public business. These specific, subject matter requirements apply only if the public body is discussing the relevant type of public business. Examples include notice of zoning actions (§ 15.2-2204) and adopting budgets (§ 15.2-2506). In all cases, the more general requirements in FOIA need to be followed in addition to any other requirements. For all regular meetings of a council, committee, board, or other agency, notice must be posted on the body's official public government website if any, public bulletin board or prominent public location and in the council clerk's office, or, if there is none in the office of the chief administrator. The notice must state the date, time and location of the meeting and must be posted at least three days before the date the meeting is to take place. § 2.2-3707(C).

For regular meetings, a simple way to comply with this requirement is to post a single notice listing the information for all meetings of the next year. This way, nobody will forget to give notice of a regularly scheduled meeting. For special, emergency meetings or continued meetings, the notice must be reasonable given the circumstances. The notice must be given to the public contemporaneously with the notice to the members being called to attend. § 2.2-3707(D).

Any person may file an annual request for notice of all meetings. In that case, the public body must notify the person making the request of all meetings. Sending the annual schedule of all regular meetings will assist in complying with this obligation. If the requester supplies an e-mail address, all notices may be sent via e-mail, unless the person objects. § 2.2-3707(E).

If a citizen submits an e-mail address and other personal information, such as a home address, to the locality for the purpose of being notified of meetings and other events, that e-mail address and other information need not be disclosed to others by the locality, pursuant to § 2.2-3705.1(10), but only if the person who has submitted the e-mail address requests the non-disclosure. Localities that are interested in keeping e-mail addresses private may want to send an e-mail to all e-mail recipients asking them to advise whether they want to have their e-mail address withheld and should have a check-box asking if the person wants to opt out of disclosure on the webpage where citizens sign up.

Meeting minutes

Minutes of council meetings must be taken at all open meetings. § 2.2-3707(H). Minutes must be written and include the meeting's date, time, and location, along with attendance, a summary of discussed matters, and any votes taken. Minutes of council committee meetings are required to be taken only if a majority of the members of the council serve on the committee.

Draft minutes and any audio or video recording made of a meeting are available to the public for inspection and copying. § 2.2-3707(H). This means that draft minutes must be disclosed if requested.

The agenda packet and all materials furnished to the members of the council (except documents that are exempt from disclosure, such as advice of the town or city attorney) must be made available for public inspection at the same time it is distributed to the members. § 2.2-3707(F). Any records that are exempt from disclosure do not need to be made available. The practical problem is for staff to remember to cull any exempt documents when making the public copy of the agenda. The better practice is to not include exempt documents as a part of the agenda, but to send them separately.

Recording meetings

Citizens have an absolute right to photograph and make video or audiotapes of public meetings. While the council may establish rules for where the equipment may be set up so meetings are not disrupted, the recording equipment may not be excluded altogether. § 2.2-3707(G). Council may not meet in a location where recordings are prohibited. If a courtroom, for example, has a standing order forbidding any form of recordation, public body meetings must be held elsewhere. § 2.2-3707(G).

Electronic meetings

Generally, council may not hold a meeting via electronic media, including a conference call, pursuant to §§ 2.2-3707 & 3708.2. There are two exceptions:

First, if the governor declares an emergency, the council may hold an electronic meeting, where members phone in or participate by other electronic means, solely to address the emergency. Council must give notice to the public to the extent possible and must provide public access to the meeting. § 2.2-3708.2(3). Also, all the facts that justify the emergency electronic meeting should be reflected in the meeting minutes.

Second, a member of council may participate electronically if he or she cannot attend due to a temporary or permanent disability, other medical condition, or due to an emergency or personal matter and the public records document that fact. The remote location of the council member need not be open to the public. The minutes should record the reason for the member's absence and the remote location from which the member participated. The remote participant must be heard by all persons at the primary meeting location as well. Each public body must develop a written policy regulating electronic participation by its members. Once this policy is adopted, it must be applied uniformly to all members. A member's participation from a remote location may be disapproved if it violates the established policy. The disapproval must be noted in the body's minutes. An individual may participate electronically in no more than two meetings per year if your reason is an emergency or personal matter. The body must maintain a physical quorum for the meeting. § 2.2-3708.2(C)(2).

In addition to these exceptions, council members have some flexibility in communicating through e-mail. A 2004 Virginia Supreme Court opinion, Beck v. Shelton, 267 Va. 482; 593 S.E.2d 195, ruled that council members e-mailing each other did not create a meeting for purposes of FOIA. In Beck, multiple e-mails were sent by an individual council member to all other members; some e-mails were in a reply to all members, and in one or two of the e-mails, the reply was made more than 24 hours after the e-mail to which it replied. The court found that no meeting had occurred, although the opinion noted that the outcome may have been different had the e-mails been part of instant messaging or a chat room discussion.

The Virginia Supreme Court reinforced its Beck reasoning in Hill v. Fairfax County School Board, No. 111805 (June 7, 2012). Hill involved e-mails between members of a school board that were exchanged over an even shorter interval than in Beck. Back-and-forth communications only occurred between two board members (not the three required for a meeting under FOIA). Any e-mail that was received by three or more members was found to be of an informational or unilateral nature and did not create any discussion among members. Following Beck, the court reiterated that e-mails between council members must be sufficiently simultaneous to create a meeting for the purposes of FOIA. Hill affirmed the lower court's finding that the school board members' communications did not create a meeting because the e-mails did not show the simultaneity or group discussion required under FOIA. Thus, responsive e-mails between at least three council members must occur within quick succession to constitute an assembly of members (though the precise responsive speed that would be necessary is unclear).

Beck and Hill indicate that e-mail communication between more than two council members may comprise a meeting under FOIA if consisting of mutual discussion within a time frame short enough to be considered an assemblage. In light of these cases, council members have some discretion to send e-mails to other members if this takes place over an extended timeframe or if non-conversational. (However, these e-mails will almost always be public records and subject to FOIA's disclosure provisions; see Part II of this guide.) Nonetheless, council members should be cautious when communicating public business over e-mail because the courts have not clearly stated at what point responsive e-mails are considered an assemblage. Furthermore, this vagueness will only become amplified as technology improves and e-mail communication becomes ever more instantaneous. If a series of e-mails is found to be sufficiently analogous to an assembly of three or more council members, then all of FOIA's requirements apply. In that case, demonstrating how a group of e-mails among council members was open to the public may prove difficult.

Text messages have been the subject of many discussions by the FOIA Council in the last year or so. If you conduct business via text message, you are obligated to retain those records under the Public Records Act and all of the FOIA rules apply.

Voting

All votes must be made publicly. Secret ballots are not allowed, unless permitted by some other provision of law. § 2.2-3710(A). This section, however, specifically authorizes each member of council to contact other members of a council or other body “for the purpose of ascertaining a member’s position” on public business without making the position public. § 2.2-3710(B). Further, nonbinding votes may be taken in closed session.

Remote Public Participation

Public bodies to include regional public bodies that wish to allow their members to participate in meetings remotely, in case of a personal matter or medical condition, must establish a policy governing electronic participation that complies with § 2.2-3708.(C)(1). Members will be allowed to participate as long as the reason for their absence does not violate the established policy.

C. Closed meetings.

A closed meeting is a meeting of a council or other public body from which the public is excluded. It may be held only for specific reasons, which are delineated in the act. Closed meetings must be entered into during an open meeting of the public body (the specific procedures are described below). After the closed portion of a meeting, the council must reconvene in open session to certify that the closed meeting portion was carried out legally. There are exceptions to the requirement that a closed meeting be held as a part of an open meeting. They are discussed below.

Purposes for closed meetings

Section §2.2-3711 sets out many reasons for holding a closed meeting. A city or town council or board of supervisors will generally need to hold a closed meeting for one of eight possibilities:

- Personnel matters - subsection 1;
- Real property - subsection 3;
- Privacy of individuals unrelated to public business - subsection 4;
- Prospective business - subsection 5;
- Consultation with legal counsel pertaining to actual or probable litigation- subsection 7;
- Consultation with legal counsel regarding specific legal matters- subdivision 8; and
- Terrorism- subsection 19.
- Award of a public contract involving the expenditure of public funds.

1. Personnel matters. Section 2.2-3711(A)(1) authorizes a closed meeting for: “[d]iscussion, consideration or interviews of prospective candidates for employment; assignment, appointment, promotion, performance, demotion, salaries, disciplining or resignation of specific public officers, appointees or employees of any public body.”

The most significant requirement in the subsection is that the discussion be about one or more specific people. This means that the council may not discuss general personnel issues in a closed meeting. For example, the council would not be authorized to meet behind closed doors to discuss a pay plan or set salaries for all employees. The council could, however, meet to discuss the pay increase to be given an employee or appointee, based on the council’s discussion in the meeting of the employee’s performance.

Note that the section applies to three classes of public officials: public officers, public appointees and employees of the public body. Therefore, the council could discuss the performance of a specific planning commission member in closed meeting since that person is an appointee of the council.

Two Virginia attorney general opinions have clouded the use of the section for a closed meeting discussion of most employees and some other public officials. In an opinion issued Dec. 16, 1998, the attorney general opined that a council may not hold a closed meeting to discuss employees who are not directly employed by the council. The opinion states that only the manager, clerk, and city attorney could be discussed in a closed meeting, because the city charter stated that only those three employees are under the “full supervisory authority” of the council. The attorney general confirmed the opinion in a second opinion dated May 18, 2000, which was written in response to a request for reconsideration. 2000 WL 8752.

Many local government attorneys disagree with this opinion. The specific language of the subsection allowing a closed meeting for personnel matters states that the individual must be an employee of the public body. The opinion limits the term “employee of the public body” in a manner that is inconsistent with the common understanding of the authority of a city or town council over all employees, not just those who report directly to the council. If a council directs the manager to fire an employee for a problem it discussed in a closed meeting, the manager would be expected to fire the individual. Direct supervisory control by council may not exist, but the council retains the ultimate responsibility for the operation of the city or town; hence, the council should logically retain the ability to confidentially discuss the employee. The FOIA Council does advise that, even accepting the attorney’s general opinion, the council could convene in closed session to discuss the manager’s handling of the personnel matter, since the manager is a direct employee of the council.

The other opinion that has cast a cloud on the use of the exemption was issued April 5, 1999. It states that a school board cannot meet in closed session to discuss choosing a chairman and vice chairman. The rationale was that the chairman and vice chairman are not appointed or employed by the public body. The specific words of the section, however, make personnel matters apply to “specific public officers, appointees or employees” of the public body. Certainly, the chairman is a public officer and appointee of the school board, since the board makes the appointment or election in the case in the opinion, and the chair is the leader of the board.

Opinions of the attorney general do not have the effect of a court decision. They are only opinions that may be considered for guidance. Courts will give some weight to such opinions but are not bound by them. Localities are cautioned in this area. It is always possible that a judge will simply follow an opinion without evaluating its merits. In that case, a locality could find itself losing a case in court over either of these two issues.

2. Real property. A closed session for discussion of real property issues is allowed for the acquisition of land for a public purpose or disposition of publicly held land, but only if discussing the matter in open session would harm the council’s bargaining position. § 2.2-3711(A)(3).

The council does not need to state why an open discussion would harm its position in the motion to hold a closed meeting. Still, a council should be prepared to defend the closed meeting if challenged.

3. Privacy of individuals unrelated to public business. Local governments do not use this section very often because a council meeting is generally limited to discussing public business. However, if as a part of public business a matter arises that affects the privacy of an individual unrelated to public business, the meeting may be carried out in private.

This provision’s usefulness can be illustrated through discussion of routing a new street. If a landowner who could be displaced has a medical condition that would make condemning his home a life-threatening situation, that would be a privacy issue for the citizen not related to public business. It would be appropriate for the council to avoid discussion in the public view, in order to protect the individual’s privacy. Another example is a council member who is going to announce his resignation publicly and wants to inform the council of his medical condition, but not the public. § 2.2-3711(A)(4).

4. Prospective business and business retention. In today’s competitive market for recruiting and retaining businesses, much negotiation goes on between the council and a company, often involving tax benefits, land deals, employment incentives and similar matters. If that kind of information is discussed in public session, competing localities from other states will gain a competitive advantage, since they will know how much must be offered to take the business away from the Virginia locality. Section 2.2-3711(A)(5) allows a closed meeting to protect these negotiations.

In order to enter into a closed meeting, there must have been no “announcement” of the interest of the business in the community. Whether a local newspaper’s report of the business interest may constitute an announcement of the interest is an unresolved question. One circuit court has ruled that a news report without any statement by the government qualifies as an announcement. The state FOIA office, however, takes the position that an announcement is something more than a newspaper report speculating about business. If a public official or official of the business makes the statement about the business in an official capacity, that clearly constitutes an announcement and the section could not be invoked.

The section not only authorizes a meeting for the location of a business, but also the expansion of an existing business. In the case of an expansion, there must have been no announcement of the interest in expanding.

A locality may also go into closed session to discuss the retention of an existing business. The code authorizes this when the retention discussion relies on proprietary information from the business, or memoranda and/or working papers from the public body that, if publicized, would be adverse to the financial interests of the locality. §§ 2.2-3711(40) & 2.2-3705.6(3).

5. Consultation with legal counsel. This important provision is limited to two types of legal matters:

1. Actual litigation; and
2. Probable litigation: § 2.2-3711(A)(7);

In actual or probable litigation, a closed meeting can be held only if holding a discussion in the open “adversely affect[s] the negotiating or litigating posture” of the council. § 2.2-3711(A)(7). For example, there is no need to hold a closed meeting to simply explain to council that the locality had been sued. The suit is a public record in the circuit court clerk’s office, therefore a briefing that the suit had been filed should be done in open meeting. In contrast, a briefing by the city attorney on the strategy for defending the suit would be appropriate for a closed meeting because open discussion would obviously hinder the defense.

Actual litigation refers to existing litigation. Probable litigation is defined to mean that a suit has been “specifically threatened” or the council or its attorney has a “reasonable basis” to believe a suit will be filed.

6. Specific legal matters requiring the advice of counsel. This category is limited to “consultation with counsel ... regarding specific legal matters” requiring legal advice. § 2.2-3711(A)(8). This category, like the two litigation categories, is limited to consulting the attorney (or other staff members or consultants) about a legal issue facing the locality that is an appropriate matter for a closed meeting. Simply having an attorney present does not allow a general discussion among the members about other issues. If non-attorney staff members participate, the attorney should still be present and participating in the consultation.

This rule was demonstrated in the March 2000 Richmond Circuit Court opinion Colonial Downs, L.P. v. Virginia Racing Commission, (2000 WL 305986). In that case, the racing commission went into a closed meeting for consultation with counsel, but spent the time holding a general discussion of Colonial Downs’ application for licensing. The court held that the meeting was a violation of the act.

7. Terrorism. After the September 11 terrorist attacks, it became clear that some provisions of the act made it easy for a terrorist to gain security information through a FOIA request. One step in response was to allow a meeting in closed session to discuss planning to protect from terrorist activity or specific cybersecurity threats or vulnerabilities under § 2.2-3711(A)(19). The public body may meet to be briefed by staff, attorneys or law-enforcement or emergency personnel to respond to terrorist or “a related threat to public safety”. This exemption applies “where discussion in an open meeting would jeopardize the safety of any person or the security of any facility, building, structure, information technology system or software program; or discussion of reports or plans related to the security of any governmental facility, building or structure, or the safety of persons using such facility, building or structure.”

8. Award of a Public Contract. Localities need to be able to conduct interview of bidders or offerors as well as discuss terms of contracts prior to the public approval of a contract. If a contract involves the expenditure of public funds and discussion in an open session would adversely affect the bargaining position or negotiating strategy of the locality; closed session is appropriate under §2.2-3711(A)(29).

Procedures for closed meetings

Going into closed meetings. In order to go from an open meeting to a closed meeting, there must be a recorded vote in open meeting. The motion must include the following elements:

1. The subject must be identified (example: new park in east end of city);
2. A statement of the purpose of the meeting (acquiring land for park); and,
3. A reference to the code section authorizing the meeting. § 2.2-3712(A).

The degree of specificity in the statement of the subject of a meeting varies with the nature of the issue. A discussion about a pending lawsuit should name the suit. After all, the pleadings are public and the suit may well have been the subject of a newspaper article. On the other hand, a discussion of a sensitive personnel matter should not contain much specificity in the motion, so as to not embarrass the employee who is the subject of the meeting. The council will need to exercise discretion in the motion’s specificity.

Nonetheless, in no case will it be sufficient to make a general statement to satisfy the first and second requirements above. “Personnel matters, pursuant to FOIA” is inadequate for a motion for a closed meeting. The Virginia Supreme Court opinion in White Dog Pub- lishing, Inc. v. Culpeper County Board of Supervisors, made this clear.

During a closed meeting, only the topics identified in the motion may be discussed. § 2.2-3712(C). In order to discuss more than one topic, the council should either include both topics in one motion, which is the preferred method, or come out of closed meeting and re-enter after making a motion on the second topic. The council may record minutes, but that is not required. In almost every case, it is not a good idea. The minutes serve little purpose, since the council must take any action in open meeting, and there will be a record of the open meeting. § 2.2-3712(I).

Va. Code § 2.2-3712(H) states that any official vote or action must be held in open session. Many local governments, therefore, take no more than a straw poll during a closed meeting, or take no votes at all, no matter how informal.

Coming out of closed meeting. At the conclusion of each closed meeting, the public body must certify in open session that it complied with the act by a roll call vote. The vote must confirm that the meeting was held for purposes allowed by the act and that while in the closed session, only those matters identified in the motion to hold a closed meeting were discussed. If a member disagrees, he must state how the closed meeting did not satisfy the requirements of the act before the vote is taken. § 2.2-3712(D). A record of the vote must be kept in the public body's records.

Interviewing chief administrative officer candidates. Most closed meetings must be held as a part of an open meeting, so the public knows the time and place of it. The act contains an important exception for local governments in § 2.2-3712(B). If a public body is to hold interviews for its chief administrative officer, it may make a single announcement in open meeting that it will hold interviews. It need not identify the location of the interviews or the names of the interviewees. The interviews must be held within 15 days of the motion.

Annexation agreements - no FOIA requirements. Independent of FOIA, Va. Code § 15.2-2907(D) allows a council or board to hold meetings on matters concerning annexation or a voluntary settlement agreement with no FOIA implications. This means notice need not be given, the public need not be invited, and minutes need not be taken. No other FOIA requirements need to be followed. The section does not prohibit a public body from following the FOIA requirements, but they are not mandatory.

III. Records.

A major purpose of FOIA is to set out the rules for public record disclosure. The general rule in FOIA concerning records is that they are open to public inspection and copying. However, many categories of records are exempt from public access. Most of these categories do not apply to local governments. The fact that a record may be exempt from disclosure does not require it to be withheld. Each exemption section states in the opening sentence that the records “may be disclosed by the custodian in his discretion, except where such disclosure is prohibited by law.” § 2.2-3705.1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7.

Some records, however, are prohibited from being disclosed at all. The custodian has no discretion to permit their disclosure. The main examples are certain tax records that Va. Code § 58.1-3 requires to be kept confidential, and matters for which the Privacy Protection Act prohibits disclosure. The act applies to records of the public body, whether the records are on paper, or in an electronic form, such as e-mails, databases and other electronic formats.

A. Responding to disclosure requests

Custodian of records. The records provisions of the act use the term “custodian of the records” as the person who has the responsibility to respond. Some sections mention the obligation of the public body, but the responsibility is clearly with the custodian. If suit is brought over a violation, however, the public body can expect to be named as a defendant.

One temptation is to deny a request because it was made to the wrong public official. If another public official who works in the same local government has the records, the request should not be denied just because it was directed to the wrong official if the recipient knows or should know that the records are available from another official. In this case, the official should respond to the request with the contact information for the other public body or just work with the other official to provide the records. § 2.2-3704(B)(3).

If the locality stores archived records off-site, and the records are in control of a third party, it is still the public body's responsibility to retrieve those records if they are requested. § 2.2-3704(J). The Library of Virginia is the custodian of the records if the locality properly archives records with the state library. If the records were properly archived a locality could refer the request to the Library of Virginia. Id.

Procedures for handling requests. Any citizen or member of the media may request an opportunity to inspect and/or copy public records. The request does not have to refer to the act, but only needs to identify the records with reasonable specificity. § 2.2-3704(B). There is no authority to require the request to be in writing, nor may the custodian of the records refuse to reply to a request if the requester refuses to put a request in writing. Some government offices ask for the request to be reduced to writing. This is a useful policy because it helps the custodian better understand what is being requested. That helps the requester, since the custodian can shorten the time researching records, thereby reducing the cost to the individual. If the individual declines to reduce the request to writing, a helpful option is to confer with the individual and write down the request, allowing the person to see the note and hopefully sign it, so no confusion will exist. The requester does not have to say why the records are sought, and the government is not allowed to ask why the records are being requested, or what they will be used for.

The custodian may require the person asking to see or copy records for his name and legal address. § 2.2-3704(A). This 2002 amendment is part of the terrorism bill but is not limited to requests relating to terrorism. The act is not clear on what happens if the requester refuses. VML suggests that if the requester does refuse, the language that the custodian “may require” the information necessarily implies that the custodian may refuse to allow access to the records.

The act does not give any rights to people who are not residents of Virginia, or to media representatives if the media entity does not publish or broadcast into the state. § 2.2-3704(A). The right to refuse has been affirmed by the courts.

B. Types of responses

There are three possible responses to a request:

1. Provide the records;
2. Obtain seven additional days to respond; or,
3. Claim an exemption to all or a portion of the request.

The initial response must be made within five business days of the receipt of the request, pursuant to § 2.2-3704, regardless of which response is used. If the custodian fails to respond within the times required, § 2.2-3704 considers that to be a denial of the request and makes it a violation of the act. In counting the five days, if you receive the request on a Monday, day one is Tuesday and then the five days would expire the next Monday.

NOTE: a clerk of court must make non-confidential court records available to the public upon request no later than 30 days after the request. The clerk may charge a fee for the actual cost of producing the records. §16.1-69.54:1.

Notably, the custodian is not required to create records if they do not exist. § 2.2-3704(D). For example, if a request is for a list of trash collectors who do business in a locality, and the locality does not have such information, there is no requirement to create that list. Subsection D does encourage public bodies to abstract or summarize information in a manner agreed to with the requester.

1. Provide the records. The first response, providing the records, is straightforward. The custodian simply makes them available. If the individual asks to receive copies, the copies need to be made within the five days, if possible, or at such time the custodian and requester agree.

2. Obtain seven additional days to respond. Similarly, if it is “not practically possible to provide the ... records or to determine whether they are available,” § 2.2-3704(B)(4), within the five days, the custodian may send a written response to the person explaining the conditions that make the response impractical. Upon compliance with this requirement, the custodian will have an additional seven business days to respond. The added seven days does not begin until the end of the fifth day of the initial period. For example, if the custodian sends a letter on the second day after receipt of the request, he or she will still have a total of 12 workdays to respond.

One unanswered question is whether the custodian may claim more time to respond based on the time it takes to determine whether an exemption applies. The quoted language above uses the term “available.” It is not clear whether deciding if an exemption applies is included in determining whether records are available. In discussions with the Virginia Press Association during the 2000 committee meetings on changes to the act, the VPA spokesman represented that the association would not contest a custodian’s obtaining extra time to determine if exemptions apply. No court has answered the issue.

In addition to the 12 days to reply, a public body may petition a court for even more time to respond to a request. However, it is suggested that you first try to negotiate with the requestor. The additional time will likely be granted if the public body can demonstrate that the volume of records requested is so large that it would disrupt its operations to respond in the prescribed time and that it is unable to reach an agreement for a time to respond with the requester. § 2.2-3704(C).

3. Claim a partial or full exemption to the request. If one or more of the many exemptions apply, the custodian may, within the five-workday limit, send the requester a written explanation of why all or some of the records are exempt. The explanation must identify the subject matter of the records (example: performance evaluations) and must cite the section of FOIA that authorizes the exemption. § 2.2-3704(B)(2). If only a portion of the requested records is exempt, the non-exempt parts must be made available within the five days, unless additional time is properly invoked.

In 1999, the Virginia Supreme Court decided Lawrence v. Jenkins, 258 Va. 598, a case in which a county zoning administrator failed to supply the code section he was relying on to exempt certain information in response to a FOIA request. The act required the code sections to be identified in the written response to the requester. Long after the time to respond had passed, the administrator sent the individual a letter identifying the code section. The court ruled that the violation still did not permit the individual to see the records and ruled that the records were exempt. Even though the zoning administrator did fail to meet FOIA requirements, the court determined the violation did not harm the requestor because he would not have been allowed to see the records if the act had been complied with. VML does not recommend relying on Lawrence. Every effort should be made to include the code section allowing the exemption in the initial correspondence.

Charges for responding to a request

The public body may charge the requester for searching and copying records. The costs must be reasonable, not to exceed the actual cost “incurred in accessing, duplicating, supplying, or searching for the requested records.” § 2.2-3704(F). A public body may not charge for overhead items, such as utilities, debt payments and the like. The hourly salary rate of any local employee who spends time researching and assembling records for the request may be charged, as may actual copying costs.

In responding to a request for duplication of part of a geographic information system database by making copies of GIS maps, the locality may base its charge on a per acre cost if the area requested exceeds 50 acres. § 2.2-3704(F).

If the custodian determines that the cost of responding will be more than $200, he may demand the requester to agree to pay a deposit in the amount of the projected costs before any information is disclosed. The time limits are tolled until payment of the deposit. The custodian is not required to send the estimate in writing, though providing a written estimate is the better practice, in order to avoid a claim by the individual that no deposit was requested. § 2.2-3704(H).

Format of records

Confusingly, the custodian must provide computer records in any “tangible medium identified by the requester,” except that it need not produce the material found in an electronic database in “a format not regularly used by the public body.” § 2.2-3704(G). The subsection is further muddled by a statement that provides – not withstanding this limitation – that the public body is to attempt to come to an agreement with the requester regarding the format of the documents to be supplied. Thus, a public body does not have to disclose electronic records in a format it does not regularly use but it must comply with any request for records maintained in a medium the public body uses in the regular course of business.

In a June 1, 1999 opinion, the attorney general opined that a local commissioner of the revenue is not required to make a copy of the personal property book for a citizen. The personal property book is a large, computer-generated bound book that every commissioner maintains. The attorney general reasoned that the act allows the commissioner to put the burden of copying on the citizen if the office has no means to copy the document. The same reasoning would apply to other local government agencies where the agency is incapable of providing requested information stored on electronic databases. § 2.2-3704(G).

E-mails and Text Messages

E-mails have generated much controversy since they began being used in government business operation. E-mails that deal with public business are public records. E-mails kept on the home computer of a council member or local government employee that relate to the transaction of public business are public and subject to inspection and copying by a citizen who makes a request to see the records.

Text messages have become the subject of many FOIA requests as well. These must be produced if requested and are subject to the records retention rules as well. If you are transacting public business, the ownership of the device is irrelevant.

Draft documents

Draft documents are records. The specific mention of draft records in the Code is to the minutes of a public body. Section §2.2-3707 specifically states that draft minutes are available for inspection. Some local governments once had policies that denied the public viewing of draft minutes. The act prohibits such policies. Some draft documents fall into the working papers exemption. In that case, or if any other exemption applies, the draft documents are not required to be made available for inspection.

C. Exemptions list.

The list of records that may be held exempt from disclosure by the custodian is set out in seven separate, lengthy sections. Fortunately, the sections are arranged by subject area in order to make it easier to find the exemptions that may apply.

The current sections are:

- Exclusions of general application to public bodies: § 2.2-3705.1.
- Exclusions; records relating to public safety: § 2.2-3705.2.
- Exclusions; records relating to administrative investigations: § 2.2-3705.3.
- Exclusions; educational records and certain records of educational institutions: § 2.2-3705.4.
- Exclusions; health and social services records: § 2.2-3705.5.
- Exclusions; proprietary records and trade secrets: § 2.2-3705.6.
- Exclusions; records of specific public bodies and certain other limited exemptions: § 2.2-3705.7.

Most local governments will only use 20 or so of the exemptions, and only 10 will apply frequently. The exemptions that most often apply to local government are:

- “State income, business, and estate tax returns, personal property tax returns, scholastic and confidential records held pursuant to § 58.1-3.” § 2.2-3705.7(1).
- “Personnel records containing information concerning identifiable individuals, except that access shall not be denied to the person who is the subject thereof.” § 2.2-3705.1(1). Any adult subject may waive confidentiality, in which case the government may release information on the person.
- “Working papers and correspondence of the ...

mayor or chief executive officer of any political subdivision of the Commonwealth However, no record which is otherwise open to inspection under this chapter shall be deemed exempt by virtue of the fact that it has been attached to or incorporated within any working paper or correspondence. Working papers will not be information that is publicly available that has been aggregated, combined, or changed in format without substantive analysis or revision. § 2.2-3705.7(2).

As used in this subdivision: “Working papers” means those records prepared by or for an above named public official for his personal or deliberative use. Generally, once the records have been shared by the chief administrative officer (county administrator or city or town manager), the records lose the working papers status, unless the records are collected from the council members or other people who have accessed them at the end of a meeting where the records were distributed.

- Consultants’ reports as working papers: Working papers, by the above definition, applies to records prepared by or for a manager or mayor for his personal or deliberative use. Once a consultant’s report is distributed or disclosed to council or the council has scheduled any action on a matter that is the subject of the consultant’s report, the report loses its exempt status as a working paper. § 2.2-3705.8. Therefore, until either of the two conditions occur, the report may be withheld as a working paper. Once either event occurs, the working paper’s status ceases to exist. If the report is exempt for other reasons, it remains exempt.
- “Written advice of legal counsel to state, regional or local public bodies or public officials, and any other records protected by the attorney client privilege.” § 2.2-3705.1(2).
- “Legal memoranda and other work product compiled specifically for use in litigation or for use in an active administrative investigation concerning a matter which is properly the subject of a closed meeting under § 2.2-3711.” § 2.2-3705.1(3).
Subsections 2 and 3 of § 2.2-3705.1 are the classic attorney client and attorney’s work product rules.
- “Library records which can be used to identify (i) both (a) any library patron who has borrowed material from a library, (b) the material such patron borrowed or (ii) any library patron under 18 years of age. For purposes of this clause (ii), access shall not be denied to the parent, including a noncusto-dial parent, or guardian of such library patron.” § 2.2-3705.7(3).

- “Any test or examination used, administered or prepared by any public body for purposes of evaluation of (i) any student or any student’s performance, (ii) any employee or employment seeker’s qualifications or aptitude for employment, retention, or promotion, or (iii) qualifications for any license or certificate issued by a public body.” § 2.2-3705.1(4). This subsection includes exemptions for test keys and any information that would defeat the usefulness of the test.
- “Records recorded in or compiled exclusively for use in closed meetings lawfully held pursuant to § 2.2-3711. However, no record which is otherwise open to inspection under this chapter shall be deemed exempt by virtue of the fact that it has been reviewed or discussed in a closed meeting.” § 2.2-3705.1(5).
- “Computer software developed by or for a ... political subdivision of the Commonwealth.” § 2.2-3705.1(7).
- “Customer account information of a public utility affiliated with a political subdivision of the Commonwealth, including the customer’s name and service address, but excluding the amount of utility service provided and the amount of money charged or paid for such utility service.” § 2.2-3705.7(7). Note that under this subsection, anyone has access to the volume of service used by a customer and the price paid, even though the name and address of a customer need not be given. A typical example of how this works: An individual could not demand a listing of the names of customers, but could demand to know how much water, gas, or electricity a customer has used and the amount paid for the same, where the person names the customer.
- “Appraisals and cost estimates of real property subject to a proposed purchase, sale or lease, prior to the completion of such purchase, sale or lease.” § 2.2-3705.1(8).

This section has been modified by Va. Code § 25-248. Local governments are now in the list of agencies that must follow the Uniform Relocation Assistance Act. One of the obligations, in subsection (b) requires that: “real property shall be appraised before the initiation of negotiations, and the owner or his designated representative shall be given an opportunity to accompany the appraiser during his inspection of the property.” Therefore, in any purchase of land to which the URAA applies, the landowner must be allowed to see a copy of the appraisal, and the appraisal must be done before beginning negotiations for the land.

- “Confidential information designated as trade secrets or proprietary information by any person in connection with a procurement transaction or by any person who has submitted to a public body an application for prequalification to bid on public construction projects in accordance with subsection B of § 2.2-4317.” § 2.2-3705.6(10). Language in the Procurement Act supports this exemption. However, a bidder, offeror, or contractor shall not designate as trade secrets or proprietary information (a) an entire bid, proposal, or prequalification application; (b) any portion of a bid, proposal, or prequalification application that does not contain trade secrets or proprietary information; or (c) line item prices or total bid, proposal, or prequalification application prices. 2.2-4342(F).
- “Information contained in (i) engineering, architectural, or construction drawings; (ii) operational, procedural, tactical planning, or training manuals; (iii) staff meeting minutes; or (iv) other records that reveal any of the following, the disclosure of which would jeopardize the safety or security of any person; governmental facility, building, or structure; or public or private commercial office, multifamily residential, or retail building or its occupants. § 2.2-3705.2(14).

This section continues on to include critical infrastructure and information related to such as well as vulnerability assessments and information technology.

NOTE: If you receive a request for these types of records, the public body is responsible for notifying the Secretary of Public Safety and Homeland Security or their designees.

- Information contained in engineering and construction drawings and plans for any single family residential dwelling submitted for the purpose of complying with the Uniform Statewide Building Code (§ 36-97 et seq.) or the Statewide Fire Prevention Code (§ 27-94 et seq.) shall be confidential and shall not be subject to disclosure under the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (§ 2.2-3700 et seq.), except to the applicant or the owner of the property upon the applicant’s or owner’s request. §36-105.3.
- Personal information furnished to a public body for the purpose of receiving electronic mail from the public body, provided that the electronic mail recipient has requested that the public body not disclose such information. However, access shall not be denied to the person who is the subject of the record. § 2.2-3705.1(10). Personal contact information includes home or business address, email address or telephone number.

- The name, address and phone number of a person complaining about another person on a Zoning, Building Code or Fire Prevention Code complaint are exempt from disclosure. This provision is not limited to criminal complaints: it applies in any investigation of the complaints. § 2.2-3705.3(8). §2.2-3705.5(9) exempts information or records of local or regional adult fatality review teams from disclosure. HB 1558. Any locality participating in such review teams may withhold records and information to the extent the information is made confidential by § 32.1-283.6.

D. Criminal incident information.

The majority of the rules for criminal incident information are set out in § 2.2-3706. The section's basic requirement is that "criminal incident information" has to be made available only if it applies to a felony. This means that local law enforcement officials do not have to make misdemeanor criminal incident information available. The policy behind the distinction between misdemeanors and felonies is based on the probable burden that would be shouldered by local police departments and sheriff's offices if required to make public information about every misdemeanor.

There are several exemptions that allow a law enforcement agency to withhold information in order to promote public safety and to not hinder ongoing criminal investigations. If release would hinder an investigation or be likely to cause the criminal to flee or destroy evidence, it need not be released. Once the reason for concern has ended, the exemption no longer applies. However, § 2.2-3706(A)(2) and (3) requires the names of adult arrestees and the status of charges or arrests to be released.

The identities of crime victims and confidential informants do not need to be released. There is no time limit on this exemption. Thus, unlike other information, the exemption continues even after the reason for concern ceases to exist.

Various other criminal records are exempt:

- complaints, memos, correspondence and evidence that is not "criminal incident information;"

- photos of adult arrestees, if release would harm an investigation or prosecution;
- confidential reports made to the police or sheriff's personnel;
- local crime commission information identifying persons providing information about criminal activity; and,
- neighborhood watch program information that contains the names, addresses or schedules of the watch participants, if the information is provided under a promise of anonymity.

The provision exempting law-enforcement records containing police and other tactical plans that need to be kept secure for safety reasons is set out in § 2.2-3706(B)(5).

Those portions of noncriminal incident and other noncriminal investigative reports or materials that contain identifying information of a personal, medical, or financial nature may be withheld by public bodies engaged in (i) emergency medical services, (ii) fire protective services, (iii) criminal law enforcement, or (iv) processing calls for service or other communications to an emergency 911 system or other equivalent reporting system, where the release of such information would jeopardize the safety or privacy of any person. Access to personnel records of persons employed by a law-enforcement agency shall be governed by the provisions of subdivision (B)(9) of this section and subdivision 1 of §2.2-3705.1, as applicable. This section used to specifically refer to the records in §15.2-1722, but the reference has been removed.

§2.2-3706(B)(7)(g) exempts from disclosure the mobile phone and pager numbers of police officers for devices provided by the police department to assist the officers in carrying out their duties. This arose from attempts by reporters to obtain the cell phone numbers of police officers, then calling while the officers were on a call.

Rights of penal institution inmates under FOIA

§2.2-3703(C) denies people who are in a local jail or state or federal penitentiary any rights under FOIA. The only rights are those guaranteed by the Constitution, such as the right to subpoena evidence.

Enforcement provisions

Any person who feels a public body or public official has violated the act may file suit in the general district or circuit court of the locality where the body or official operates. § 2.2-3713(A). A FOIA action may commence in the name of a person, even if the plaintiff's attorney, acting on his or her behalf, made the original FOIA request. If the petition or affidavit supporting the petition for mandamus or injunction alleges violations of open meetings then the three day notice to the party shall not be required. The case must be heard within seven days of filing. § 2.2-3713(C). As a practical matter, this rocket docket provision inconveniences judges greatly, as their court schedules are usually very busy. Saturday hearings are common for FOIA cases.

The petitioner must state a claim of a violation with reasonable specificity, pursuant to subsection D. Even though a suit is filed by the complaining citizen, the public body must put on its evidence first and must prove that it has complied with the act. It is not the petitioner's obligation to prove the violation. § 2.2-3713(E).

The court may award an injunction against repeated violations, or even for a single occurrence of noncompliance. Further, if the petitioner wins the case, he may be awarded attorney's fees by the court. If the court determines that an official willfully or knowingly violated the law, it is required to impose a civil penalty against him or her in an amount between $500 and $2,000 for a first offense and $2,000 to $5,000 for subsequent offenses. The penalties are to be paid into the Literary Fund. § 2.2-3714. Additional penalties of up to $100 per record altered or destroyed could be assessed if an officer, employer or member of a public body failed to provide records because the records were altered or destroyed with the intent to avoid FOIA. In addition, if a member of a public body votes to certify closed session and the certification was not proper, the court may impose on the public body a civil penalty of up to $1,000. § 2.2-3714. Mitigating factors for the fine shall include the reliance of members on (i) opinions of the Attorney General, (ii) court cases substantially supporting the rationale of the public body, and (iii) published opinions of the Freedom of Information Advisory Council.

Freedom of Information Advisory Council

The Freedom of Information Advisory Council serves primarily as an office to answer questions about FOIA made by government agencies, the public, and the media. An attorney who staffs the office makes the opinions of the council. The opinions are to be informal, advisory, and nonbinding. Any officer, employee or member of a public body alleged to knowingly and willful violation FOIA shall be able to introduce any relevant advisory opinion issued as evidence that they did not act knowingly and willfully if the person acted in good faith reliance on the opinion. If a government agency submits records for a review and advice by the FOIA officer, the officer may not release the submitted information without the permission of the agency that submitted them.

The office has a toll-free number (866) 448-4100 for requests and a website: <http://foiacouncil.dls.virginia.gov/>. The council has lists of written opinions on the website that are searchable.

All localities should appoint a FOIA Officer and provide their contact information on the government website. § 2.2-3704.2. Each locality that has more than 250 people shall post on its government website the FOIA rights and responsibilities, as well as a link to the FOIA Council online public comment form. § 2.2-3704.1.

In addition to issuing opinions, which may be made via telephone, letter or e-mail, the FOIA office conducts FOIA training for the FOIA Officer and any other government officials. Because public officials must read and familiarize themselves with the act, the training sessions are an important opportunity to learn the act's requirements. § 30-179. In 2019, VA Code Section § 2.2-3704.3 was added which requires that local elected officials complete FOIA training within 2 months of assuming office and then once every 2 years; this training can be conducted by the FOIA Council or the local government attorney. The clerk must maintain records of the training for 5 years.

Summary

The Freedom of Information Act includes many requirements and restrictions pertaining to public access of government information. The basic policy woven throughout the act makes clear that the public is to have free access to government information and meetings. The act sets out the types of meetings that can be closed. The exemptions protect the operation of government reasonably well.

FOIA will continue to evolve to meet the changing expectations of the public and government agencies. In the area of electronic information, expect to see significant changes as the General Assembly makes the act more relevant in the fast-changing electronic age. For example, application of the act to the use of e-mail, instant messaging and other social media software will likely be revisited many times!

Title 2.2. Administration of Government. Chapter 37. Virginia Freedom of Information Act

As required under Virginia Code § 2.2-3702, “Any person elected, reelected, appointed or reappointed to any body not excepted from this chapter shall . . . read and become familiar with the provisions of this chapter.”

The text of the FOIA act follows to assist local officials in complying with this section of the Act.

Additional Code sections that deal with FOIA but that are in other chapters of the Code are included as well.

§ 2.2-3700. Short title; policy.

A. This chapter may be cited as “The Virginia Freedom of Information Act.”

B. By enacting this chapter, the General Assembly ensures the people of the Commonwealth ready access to public records in the custody of a public body or its officers and employees, and free entry to meetings of public bodies wherein the business of the people is being conducted. The affairs of government are not intended to be conducted in an atmosphere of secrecy since at all times the public is to be the beneficiary of any action taken at any level of government. Unless a public body or its officers or employees specifically elect to exercise an exemption provided by this chapter or any other statute, every meeting shall be open to the public and all public records shall be available for inspection and copying upon request. All public records and meetings shall be presumed open, unless an exemption is properly invoked.

The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed to promote an increased awareness by all persons of governmental activities and afford every opportunity to citizens to witness the operations of government. Any exemption from public access to records or meetings shall be narrowly construed and no record shall be withheld or meeting closed to the public unless specifically made exempt pursuant to this chapter or other specific provision of law. This chapter shall not be construed to discourage the free discussion by government officials or employees of public matters with the citizens of the Commonwealth.

All public bodies and their officers and employees shall make reasonable efforts to reach an agreement with a requester concerning the production of the records requested.

Any ordinance adopted by a local governing body that conflicts with the provisions of this chapter shall be void.

§ 2.2-3701. Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context requires a different meaning:

“Closed meeting” means a meeting from which the public is excluded.

“Electronic communication” means the use of technology having electrical, digital, magnetic, wireless, optical, electromagnetic, or similar capabilities to transmit or receive information.

“Emergency” means an unforeseen circumstance rendering the notice required by this chapter impossible or impracticable and which circumstance requires immediate action.

“Information” as used in the exclusions established by §§ 2.2-3705.1 through 2.2-3705.7, means the content within a public record that references a specifically identified subject matter, and shall not be interpreted to require the production of information that is not embodied in a public record.

“Meeting” or “meetings” means the meetings including work sessions, when sitting physically, or through electronic communication means pursuant to § 2.2-3708.2, as a body or entity, or as an informal assemblage of (i) as many as three members or (ii) a quorum, if less than three, of the constituent membership, wherever held, with or without minutes being taken, whether or not votes are cast, of any public body. Neither the gathering of employees of a public body nor the gathering or attendance of two or more members of a public body (a) at any place or function where no part of the purpose of such gathering or attendance is the discussion or transaction of any public business, and such gathering or attendance was not called or prearranged with any purpose of discussing or transacting any business of the public body, or (b) at a public forum, candidate appearance, or debate, the purpose of which is to inform the electorate and not to transact public business or to hold discussions relating to the transaction of public business, even though the performance of the members individually or collectively in the conduct of public business may be a topic of discussion or debate at such public meeting, shall be deemed a “meeting” subject to the provisions of this chapter.

“Open meeting” or “public meeting” means a meeting at which the public may be present.

“Public body” means any legislative body, authority, board, bureau, commission, district or agency of the Commonwealth or of any political subdivision of the Commonwealth, including cities, towns and counties, municipal councils, governing bodies of counties, school boards and planning commissions; governing boards of public institutions of higher education; and other organizations, corporations or agencies in the Commonwealth supported wholly or principally by public funds. It shall include (i) the Virginia Birth-Related Neurological Injury Compensation Program and its board of directors established pursuant to Chapter 50 (§ 38.2-5000 et seq.) of Title 38.2 and (ii) any committee, subcommittee, or other entity however designated, of the public body created to perform delegated functions of the public body or to advise the public body. It shall not exclude any such committee, subcommittee or entity because it has private sector or citizen members. Corporations organized by the Virginia Retirement System are “public bodies” for purposes of this chapter.

For the purposes of the provisions of this chapter applicable to access to public records, constitutional officers and private police departments as defined in § 9.1-101 shall be considered public bodies and, except as otherwise expressly provided by law, shall have the same obligations to disclose public records as other custodians of public records.

“Public records” means all writings and recordings that consist of letters, words or numbers, or their equivalent, set down by handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostating, photography, magnetic impulse, optical or magneto-optical form, mechanical or electronic recording or other form of data compilation, however stored, and regardless of physical form or characteristics, prepared or owned by, or in the possession of a public body or its officers, employees or agents in the transaction of public business.

“Regional public body” means a unit of government organized as provided by law within defined boundaries, as determined by the General Assembly, which unit includes two or more localities.

“Scholastic records” means those records containing information directly related to a student or an applicant for admission and maintained by a public body that is an educational agency or institution or by a person acting for such agency or institution.

“Trade secret” means the same as that term is defined in the Uniform Trade Secrets Act (§59.1-336 et seq.).

§ 2.2-3702. Notice of chapter.

Any person elected, reelected, appointed or reappointed to any body not excepted from this chapter shall (i) be furnished by the public body’s administrator or legal counsel with a copy of this chapter within two weeks following election, reelection, appointment or reappointment and (ii) read and become familiar with the provisions of this chapter.

§ 2.2-3703. Public bodies and records to which chapter inapplicable; voter registration and election records; access by persons incarcerated in a state, local, or federal correctional facility.

A. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to:

1. The Virginia Parole Board, except that (i) information from the Virginia Parole Board providing the number of inmates considered by the Board for discretionary parole, the number of inmates granted or denied parole, and the number of parolees returned to the custody of the Department of Corrections solely as a result of a determination by the Board of a violation of parole shall be open to inspection and available for release, on a monthly basis, as provided by § 2.2-3704; (ii) all guidance documents, as defined in § 2.2-4101, shall be public records and subject to the provisions of this chapter; and (iii) all records concerning the finances of the Virginia Parole Board shall be public records and subject to the provisions of this chapter. The information required by clause (i) shall be furnished by offense, sex, race, age of the inmate, and the locality in which the conviction was obtained, upon the request of the party seeking the information. The information required by clause (ii) shall include all documents establishing the policy of the Board or any change in or clarification of such policy with respect to grant, denial, deferral, revocation, or supervision of parole or geriatric release or the process for consideration thereof, and shall be clearly and conspicuously posted on the Board’s website. However, such information shall not include any portion of any document reflecting the application of any policy or policy change or clarification of such policy to an individual inmate;
2. Petit juries and grand juries;
3. Family assessment and planning teams established pursuant to § 2.2-5207;
4. Sexual assault response teams established pursuant to §15.2-1627.4, except that records relating to (i) protocols and policies of the sexual assault response team and (ii) guidelines for the community's response established by the sexual assault response team shall be public records and subject to the provisions of this chapter;

5. Multidisciplinary child sexual response teams established pursuant to §15.2-1627.5;
- 6.. The Virginia State Crime Commission; and
- 7.. The records maintained by the clerks of the courts of record, as defined in § 1-212, for which clerks are custodians under § 17.1-242, and courts not of record, as defined in § 16.1-69.5, for which clerks are custodians under § 16.1-69.54, including those transferred for storage, maintenance, or archiving. Such records shall be requested in accordance with the provisions of §§ 16.1-69.54:1 and 17.1-208, as appropriate. However, other records maintained by the clerks of such courts shall be public records and subject to the provisions of this chapter.

B. Public access to voter registration and election records shall be governed by the provisions of Title 24.2 and this chapter. The provisions of Title 24.2 shall be controlling in the event of any conflict.

C. No provision of this chapter or Chapter 21 (§ 30-178 et seq.) of Title 30 shall be construed to afford any rights to any person (i) incarcerated in a state, local or federal correctional facility, whether or not such facility is (a) located in the Commonwealth or (b) operated pursuant to the Corrections Private Management Act (§ 53.1-261 et seq.) or (ii) civilly committed pursuant to the Sexually Violent Predators Act (§ 37.2-900 et seq.). However, this subsection shall not be construed to prevent such persons from exercising their constitutionally protected rights, including, but not limited to, their right to call for evidence in their favor in a criminal prosecution.

§ 2.2-3703.1. Disclosure pursuant to court order or subpoena.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall have any bearing upon disclosures required to be made pursuant to any court order or subpoena. No discretionary exemption from mandatory disclosure shall be construed to make records covered by such discretionary exemption privileged under the rules of discovery, unless disclosure is otherwise prohibited by law.

§ 2.2-3704. Public records to be open to inspection; procedure for requesting records and responding to request; charges; transfer of records for storage, etc.

- A. Except as otherwise specifically provided by law, all public records shall be open to citizens of the Commonwealth, representatives of newspapers and magazines with circulation in the Commonwealth, and representatives of radio and television stations broadcasting in or into the Commonwealth during the regular office hours of the custodian of such records. Access to such records shall be provided by the custodian in accordance with this chapter by inspection or by providing copies of the requested records, at the option of the requester. The custodian may require the requester to provide his name and legal address. The custodian of such records shall take all necessary precautions for their preservation and safekeeping.

B. A request for public records shall identify the requested records with reasonable specificity. The request need not make reference to this chapter in order to invoke the provisions of this chapter or to impose the time limits for response by a public body. Any public body that is subject to this chapter and that is the custodian of the requested records shall promptly, but in all cases within five working days of receiving a request, provide the requested records to the requester or make one of the following responses in writing:

1. The requested records are being entirely withheld. Such response shall identify with reasonable particularity the volume and subject matter of withheld records, and cite, as to each category of withheld records, the specific Code section that authorizes the withholding of the records.
2. The requested records are being provided in part and are being withheld in part. Such response shall identify with reasonable particularity the subject matter of withheld portions, and cite, as to each category of withheld records, the specific Code section that authorizes the withholding of the records.
3. The requested records could not be found or do not exist. However, if the public body that received the request knows that another public body has the requested records, the response shall include contact information for the other public body.
4. It is not practically possible to provide the requested records or to determine whether they are available within the five-work-day period. Such response shall specify the conditions that make a response impossible. If the response is made within five working days, the public body shall have an additional seven work days in which to provide one of the four preceding responses.

C. Any public body may petition the appropriate court for additional time to respond to a request for records when the request is for an extraordinary volume of records or requires an extraordinarily lengthy search, and a response by the public body within the time required by this chapter will prevent the public body from meeting its operational responsibilities. Before proceeding with the petition, however, the public body shall make reasonable efforts to reach an agreement with the requester concerning the production of the records requested.

D. Subject to the provisions of subsection G, no public body shall be required to create a new record if the record does not already exist. However, a public body may abstract or summarize information under such terms and conditions as agreed between the requester and the public body.

E. Failure to respond to a request for records shall be deemed a denial of the request and shall constitute a violation of this chapter.

F. A public body may make reasonable charges not to exceed its actual cost incurred in accessing, duplicating, supplying, or searching for the requested records. No public body shall impose any extraneous, intermediary, or surplus fees or expenses to recoup the general costs associated with creating or maintaining records or transacting the general business of the public body. Any duplicating fee charged by a public body shall not exceed the actual cost of duplication. The public body may also make a reasonable charge for the cost incurred in supplying records produced from a geographic information system at the request of anyone other than the owner of the land that is the subject of the request. However, such charges shall not exceed the actual cost to the public body in supplying such records, except that the public body may charge, on a pro rata per acre basis, for the cost of creating topographical maps developed by the public body, for such maps or portions thereof, which encompass a contiguous area greater than 50 acres. All charges for the supplying of requested records shall be estimated in advance at the request of the citizen.

G. Public records maintained by a public body in an electronic data processing system, computer database, or any other structured collection of data shall be made available to a requester at a reasonable cost, not to exceed the actual cost in accordance with subsection F. When electronic or other databases are combined or contain exempt and nonexempt records, the public body may provide access to the exempt records if not otherwise prohibited by law, but shall provide access to the nonexempt records as provided by this chapter.

Public bodies shall produce nonexempt records maintained in an electronic database in any tangible medium identified by the requester, including, where the public body has the capability, the option of posting the records on a website or delivering the records through an electronic mail address provided by the requester, if that medium is used by the public body in the regular course of business. No public body shall be required to produce records from an electronic database in a format not regularly used by the public body. However, the public body shall make reasonable efforts to provide records in any format under such terms and conditions as agreed between the requester and public body, including the payment of reasonable costs. The excision of exempt fields of information from a database or the conversion of data from one available format to another shall not be deemed the creation, preparation, or compilation of a new public record.

H. In any case where a public body determines in advance that charges for producing the requested records are likely to exceed $200, the public body may, before continuing to process the request, require the requester to agree to payment of a deposit not to exceed the amount of the advance determination. The deposit shall be credited toward the final cost of supplying the requested records. The period within which the public body shall respond under this section shall be tolled for the amount of time that elapses between notice of the advance determination and the response of the requester.

I. Before processing a request for records, a public body may require the requester to pay any amounts owed to the public body for previous requests for records that remain unpaid 30 days or more after billing.

J. In the event a public body has transferred possession of public records to any entity, including but not limited to any other public body, for storage, maintenance, or archiving, the public body initiating the transfer of such records shall remain the custodian of such records for purposes of responding to requests for public records made pursuant to this chapter and shall be responsible for retrieving and supplying such public records to the requester. In the event a public body has transferred public records for storage, maintenance, or archiving and such transferring public body is no longer in existence, any public body that is a successor to the transferring public body shall be deemed the custodian of such records. In the event no successor entity exists, the entity in possession of the public records shall be deemed the custodian of the records for purposes of compliance with this chapter, and shall retrieve and supply such records to the requester. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to apply to records transferred to the Library of Virginia for permanent archiving pursuant to the duties imposed by the Virginia Public Records Act (§ 42.1-76 et seq.). In accordance with § 42.1-79, the Library of Virginia shall be the custodian of such permanently archived records and shall be responsible for responding to requests for such records made pursuant to this chapter.

§ 2.2-3704.01. Records containing both excluded and nonexcluded information; duty to redact.

No provision of this chapter is intended, nor shall it be construed or applied, to authorize a public body to withhold a public record in its entirety on the grounds that some portion of the public record is excluded from disclosure by this chapter or by any other provision of law. A public record may be withheld from disclosure in its entirety only to the extent that an exclusion from disclosure under this chapter or other provision of law applies to the entire content of the public record. Otherwise, only those portions of the public record containing information subject to an exclusion under this chapter or other provision of law may be withheld, and all portions of the public record that are not so excluded shall be disclosed.

§ 2.2-3704.1. Posting of notice of rights and responsibilities by state and local public bodies; assistance by the Freedom of Information Advisory Council.

A. All state public bodies subject to the provisions of this chapter, any county or city, any town with a population of more than 250, and any school board shall make available the following information to the public upon request and shall post a link to such information on the homepage of their respective official public government websites:

1. A plain English explanation of the rights of a requester under this chapter, the procedures to obtain public records from the public body, and the responsibilities of the public body in complying with this chapter. For purposes of this section, “plain English” means written in nontechnical, readily understandable language using words of common everyday usage and avoiding legal terms and phrases or other terms and words of art whose usage or special meaning primarily is limited to a particular field or profession;
2. Contact information for the FOIA officer designated by the public body pursuant to § 2.2-3704.2 to (i) assist a requester in making a request for records or (ii) respond to requests for public records;

3. A general description, summary, list, or index of the types of public records maintained by such public body;
4. A general description, summary, list, or index of any exemptions in law that permit or require such public records to be withheld from release;
5. Any policy the public body has concerning the type of public records it routinely withholds from release as permitted by this chapter or other law; and
6. The following statement: “A public body may make reasonable charges not to exceed its actual cost incurred in accessing, duplicating, supplying, or searching for the requested records. No public body shall impose any extraneous, intermediary, or surplus fees or expenses to recoup the general costs associated with creating or maintaining records or transacting the general business of the public body. Any duplicating fee charged by a public body shall not exceed the actual cost of duplication. All charges for the supplying of requested records shall be estimated in advance at the request of the citizen as set forth in subsection F of § 2.2-3704 of the Code of Virginia.”

B. Any state public body subject to the provisions of this chapter and any county or city, and any town with a population of more than 250, shall post a link on its official public government website to the online public comment form on the Freedom of Information Advisory Council’s website to enable any requester to comment on the quality of assistance provided to the requester by the public body.

C. The Freedom of Information Advisory Council, created pursuant to § 30-178, shall assist in the development and implementation of the provisions of subsection A, upon request.

§ 2.2-3704.2. Public bodies to designate FOIA officer.

A. All state public bodies, including state authorities, that are subject to the provisions of this chapter and all local public bodies that are subject to the provisions of this chapter, shall designate and publicly identify one or more Freedom of Information Act officers (FOIA officer) whose responsibility is to serve as a point of contact for members of the public in requesting public records and to coordinate the public body's compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

B. For such state public bodies, the name and contact information of the public body's FOIA officer to whom members of the public may direct requests for public records and who will oversee the public body's compliance with the provisions of this chapter shall be made available to the public upon request and be posted on the respective public body's official public government website at the time of designation and maintained thereafter on such website for the duration of the designation.

C. For such local public bodies, the name and contact information of the public body's FOIA officer to whom members of the public may direct requests for public records and who will oversee the public body's compliance with the provisions of this chapter shall be made available in a way reasonably calculated to provide notice to the public, including posting at the public body's place of business, posting on its official public government website, or including such information in its publications.

D. For the purposes of this section, local public bodies shall include constitutional officers.

E. Any such FOIA officer shall possess specific knowledge of the provisions of this chapter and be trained at least annually by legal counsel for the public body or the Virginia Freedom of Information Advisory Council (the Council) or through an online course offered by the Council. Any such training shall document that the training required by this subsection has been fulfilled.

F. The name and contact information of a FOIA officer trained by legal counsel of a public body shall be (i) submitted to the Council by July 1 of each year on a form developed by the Council for that purpose and (ii) updated in a timely manner in the event of any changes to such information.

G. The Council shall maintain on its website a listing of all FOIA officers, including name, contact information, and the name of the public body such FOIA officers serve.

§ 2.2-3704.3. Training for local officials.

A. The Virginia Freedom of Information Advisory Council (the Council) or the local government attorney shall provide online training session for local elected officials on the provisions of this chapter.

B. Each local elected official shall complete a training session described in subsection A within two months after assuming the local elected office and thereafter at least once during each consecutive period of two calendar years commencing with the date on which he last completed a training session, for as long as he holds such office. No penalty shall be imposed on a local elected official for failing to complete a training session.

C. The clerk of each governing body or school board shall maintain records indicating the names of elected officials subject to the training requirements in subsection B and the dates on which each such official completed training sessions satisfying such requirements. Such records shall be maintained for five years in the office of the clerk of the respective governing body or school board.

§ 2.2-3705.1. Exclusions to application of chapter; exclusions of general application to public bodies.

The following information contained in a public record is excluded from the mandatory disclosure provisions of this chapter but may be disclosed by the custodian in his discretion, except where such disclosure is prohibited by law. Redaction of information excluded under this section from a public record shall be conducted in accordance with § 2.2-3704.01.

1. Personnel information concerning identifiable individuals, except that access shall not be denied to the person who is the subject thereof. Any person who is the subject of such information and who is 18 years of age or older may waive, in writing, the protections afforded by this subdivision. If the protections are so waived, such information shall be disclosed. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to authorize the withholding of any resumes or applications submitted by persons who are appointed by the Governor pursuant to § 2.2-106 or 2.2-107.

No provision of this chapter or any provision of Chapter 38 (§ 2.2-3800 et seq.) shall be construed as denying public access to (i) contracts between a public body and its officers or employees, other than contracts settling public employee employment disputes held confidential as personnel records under § 2.2-3705.1; (ii) records of the name, position, job classification, official salary, or rate of pay of, and records of the allowances or reimbursements for expenses paid to, any officer, official, or employee of a public body; or (iii) the compensation or benefits paid by any corporation organized by the Virginia Retirement System or its officers or employees. The provisions of this subdivision, however, shall not require public access to records of the official salaries or rates of pay of public employees whose annual rate of pay is $10,000 or less.

2. Written advice of legal counsel to state, regional or local public bodies or the officers or employees of such public bodies, and any other information protected by the attorney-client privilege.

3. Legal memoranda and other work product compiled specifically for use in litigation or for use in an active administrative investigation concerning a matter that is properly the subject of a closed meeting under § 2.2-3711.

4. Any test or examination used, administered or prepared by any public body for purposes of evaluation of (i) any student or any student's performance, (ii) any employee or employment seeker's qualifications or aptitude for employment, retention, or promotion, or (iii) qualifications for any license or certificate issued by a public body.

As used in this subdivision, "test or examination" shall include (a) any scoring key for any such test or examination and (b) any other document that would jeopardize the security of the test or examination. Nothing contained in this subdivision shall prohibit the release of test scores or results as provided by law, or limit access to individual records as provided by law. However, the subject of such employment tests shall be entitled to review and inspect all records relative to his performance on such employment tests.

When, in the reasonable opinion of such public body, any such test or examination no longer has any potential for future use, and the security of future tests or examinations will not be jeopardized, the test or examination shall be made available to the public. However, minimum competency tests administered to public school children shall be made available to the public contemporaneously with statewide release of the scores of those taking such tests, but in no event shall such tests be made available to the public later than six months after the administration of such tests.

5. Records recorded in or compiled exclusively for use in closed meetings lawfully held pursuant to § 2.2-3711. However, no record that is otherwise open to inspection under this chapter shall be deemed exempt by virtue of the fact that it has been reviewed or discussed in a closed meeting.

6. Vendor proprietary information software that may be in the public records of a public body. For the purpose of this subdivision, "vendor proprietary information software" means computer programs acquired from a vendor for purposes of processing data for agencies or political subdivisions of the Commonwealth.

However, nothing in this subdivision shall prevent the disclosure of information taken from inactive reports upon expiration of the period of limitations for the filing of a civil suit.

10. Personal contact information furnished to a public body for the purpose of receiving electronic mail from the public body, provided that the electronic mail recipient has requested that the public body not disclose such information. However, access shall not be denied to the person who is the subject of the record. As used in this subdivision, "personal contact information" means the information provided to the public body for the purpose of receiving electronic mail from the public body and includes home or business (i) address, (ii) email address, or (iii) telephone number or comparable number assigned to any other electronic communication device.

11. Communications and materials required to be kept confidential pursuant to § 2.2-4119 of the Virginia Administrative Dispute Resolution Act (§ 2.2-4115 et seq.).

12. Information relating to the negotiation and award of a specific contract where competition or bargaining is involved and where the release of such information would adversely affect the bargaining position or negotiating strategy of the public body. Such information shall not be withheld after the public body has made a decision to award or not to award the contract. In the case of procurement transactions conducted pursuant to the Virginia Public Procurement Act (§ 2.2-4300 et seq.), the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply, and any release of information relating to such transactions shall be governed by the Virginia Public Procurement Act.

13. Account numbers or routing information for any credit card, debit card, or other account with a financial institution of any person or public body. However, access shall not be denied to the person who is the subject of the information. For the purposes of this subdivision, “financial institution” means any organization authorized to do business under state or federal laws relating to financial institutions, including, without limitation, banks and trust companies, savings banks, savings and loan companies or associations, and credit unions.

§ 2.2-3705.2. Exclusions to application of chapter; records relating to public safety.

The following information contained in a public record is excluded from the mandatory disclosure provisions of this chapter but may be disclosed by the custodian in his discretion, except where such disclosure is prohibited by law. Redaction of information excluded under this section from a public record shall be conducted in accordance with § 2.2-3704.01.

1. Confidential information, including victim identity, provided to or obtained by staff in a rape crisis center or a program for battered spouses.

2. Information that describes the design, function, operation, or access control features of any security system, whether manual or automated, which is used to control access to or use of any automated data processing or telecommunications system.

3. Information that would disclose the security aspects of a system safety program plan adopted pursuant to Federal Transit Administration regulations by the Commonwealth’s designated Rail Fixed Guideway Systems Safety Oversight agency; and information in the possession of such agency, the release of which would jeopardize the success of an ongoing investigation of a rail accident or other incident threatening railway safety.

4. Information concerning security plans and specific assessment components of school safety audits, as provided in § 22.1-279.8.

Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to prevent the disclosure of information relating to the effectiveness of security plans after (i) any school building or property has been subjected to fire, explosion, natural disaster, or other catastrophic event or (ii) any person on school property has suffered or been threatened with any personal injury.

5. Information concerning the mental health assessment of an individual subject to commitment as a sexually violent predator under Chapter 9 (§ 37.2-900 et seq.) of Title 37.2 held by the Commitment Review Committee; except that in no case shall information identifying the victims of a sexually violent predator be disclosed.

6. Subscriber data provided directly or indirectly by a communications services provider to a public body that operates a 911 or E-911 emergency dispatch system or an emergency notification or reverse 911 system if the data is in a form not made available by the communications services provider to the public generally. Nothing in this subdivision shall prevent the disclosure of subscriber data generated in connection with specific calls to a 911 emergency system, where the requester is seeking to obtain public records about the use of the system in response to a specific crime, emergency or other event as to which a citizen has initiated a 911 call.

For the purposes of this subdivision:

“Communications services provider” means the same as that term is defined in § 58.1-647.

“Subscriber data” means the name, address, telephone number, and any other information identifying a subscriber of a communications services provider.

7. Subscriber data collected by a local governing body in accordance with the Enhanced Public Safety Telephone Services Act (§ 56-484.12 et seq.) and other identifying information of a personal, medical, or financial nature provided to a local governing body in connection with a 911 or E-911 emergency dispatch system or an emergency notification or reverse 911 system if such records are not otherwise publicly available.

Nothing in this subdivision shall prevent the disclosure of subscriber data generated in connection with specific calls to a 911 emergency system, where the requester is seeking to obtain public records about the use of the system in response to a specific crime, emergency or other event as to which a citizen has initiated a 911 call.

For the purposes of this subdivision:

realignment of federal military installations located in Virginia or the relocation of national security facilities located in Virginia, to limit the adverse economic effect of such realignment, closure, or relocation, or to seek additional tenant activity growth from the Department of Defense or federal government or (ii) disclose trade secrets, , provided to the Council or such commission or organizations in connection with their work.

In order to invoke the trade secret protection provided by clause (ii), the submitting entity shall, in writing and at the time of submission (a) invoke this exclusion, (b) identify with specificity the information for which such protection is sought, and (c) state the reason why such protection is necessary. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to prevent the disclosure of all or part of any record, other than a trade secret that has been specifically identified as required by this subdivision, after the Department of Defense or federal agency has issued a final, unappealable decision, or in the event of litigation, a court of competent jurisdiction has entered a final, unappealable order concerning the closure, realignment, or expansion of the military installation or tenant activities, or the relocation of the national security facility, for which records are sought.

9. Information, as determined by the State Comptroller, that describes the design, function, operation, or implementation of internal controls over the Commonwealth's financial processes and systems, and the assessment of risks and vulnerabilities of those controls, including the annual assessment of internal controls mandated by the State Comptroller, if disclosure of such information would jeopardize the security of the Commonwealth's financial assets. However, records relating to the investigation of and findings concerning the soundness of any fiscal process shall be disclosed in a form that does not compromise internal controls. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to prohibit the Auditor of Public Accounts or the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Commission from reporting internal control deficiencies discovered during the course of an audit.

10. Information relating to the Statewide Agencies Radio System (STARS) or any other similar local or regional public safety communications system that (i) describes the design, function, programming, operation, or access control features of the overall system, components, structures, individual networks, and subsystems of the STARS or any other similar local or regional communications system or (ii) relates to radio frequencies assigned to or utilized by STARS or any other similar local or regional communications system, code plugs, circuit routing, addressing schemes, talk groups,

§ 2.2-3705.8. Limitation on record exclusions.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as denying public access to the nonexempt portions of a report of a consultant hired by or at the request of a local public body or the mayor or chief executive or administrative officer of such public body if (i) the contents of such report have been distributed or disclosed to members of the local public body or (ii) the local public body has scheduled any action on a matter that is the subject of the consultant's report.

Nothing in subdivision 1 shall be construed to authorize the withholding of those portions of such information that are not likely to cause the above-referenced damage;

4. Records of completed unattended death investigations to the parent or spouse of the decedent or, if there is no living parent or spouse, to the most immediate family member of the decedent, provided the person is not a person of interest or a suspect. For the purposes of this subdivision, “unattended death” means a death determined to be a suicide, accidental or natural death where no criminal charges will be initiated, and “immediate family” means the decedent’s personal representative or, if no personal representative has qualified, the decedent’s next of kin in order of intestate succession as set forth in § 64.2-200.

4. All records of persons imprisoned in penal institutions in the Commonwealth provided such records relate to the imprisonment;
5. Records of law-enforcement agencies, to the extent that such records contain specific tactical plans, the disclosure of which would jeopardize the safety or security of law-enforcement personnel or the general public;

8. Those portions of any records containing information related to undercover operations or protective details that would reveal the staffing, logistics, or tactical plans of such undercover operations or protective details. Nothing in this subdivision shall operate to allow the withholding of information concerning the overall costs or expenses associated with undercover operations or protective details;
9. Records of (i) background investigations of applicants for law-enforcement agency employment, (ii) administrative investigations relating to allegations of wrongdoing by employees of a law-enforcement agency, and (iii) other administrative investigations conducted by law-enforcement agencies that are made confidential by law;

for service or other communications to an emergency 911 system or any other equivalent reporting system may withhold those portions of noncriminal incident or other noncriminal investigative reports or materials that contain identifying information of a personal, medical, or financial nature where the release of such information would jeopardize the safety or privacy of any person. Access to personnel records of persons employed by a law-enforcement agency shall be governed by the provisions of subdivision B 9 of this section and subdivision 1 of § 2.2-3705.1, as applicable.

E. Records of any call for service or other communication to an emergency 911 system or communicated with any other equivalent reporting system shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

§ 2.2-3708.2. Meetings held through electronic communication means.

A. The following provisions apply to all public bodies:

1. Subject to the requirements of subsection C, all public bodies may conduct any meeting wherein the public business is discussed or transacted through electronic communication means if, on or before the day of a meeting, a member of the public body holding the meeting notifies the chair of the public body that:
 - a. Such member is unable to attend the meeting due to a temporary or permanent disability or other medical condition that prevents the member's physical attendance; or
 - b. Such member is unable to attend the meeting due to a personal matter and identifies with specificity the nature of the personal matter. Participation by a member pursuant to this subdivision is limited each calendar year to two meetings.
2. If participation by a member through electronic communication means is approved pursuant to subdivision 1, the public body holding the meeting shall record in its minutes the remote location from which the member participated; however, the remote location need not be open to the public. If participation is approved pursuant to subdivision 1 a, the public body shall also include in its minutes the fact that the member participated through electronic communication means due to a temporary or permanent disability or other medical condition that prevented the member's physical attendance. If participation is approved pursuant to subdivision 1 b, the public body shall also include in its minutes the specific nature of the personal matter cited by the member.

If a member's participation from a remote location pursuant to subdivision 1 b is disapproved because such participation would violate the policy adopted pursuant to subsection C, such disapproval shall be recorded in the minutes with specificity.

3. Any public body may meet by electronic communication means without a quorum of the public body physically assembled at one location when the Governor has declared a state of emergency in accordance with § 44-146.17, provided that (i) the catastrophic nature of the declared emergency makes it impracticable or unsafe to assemble a quorum in a single location and (ii) the purpose of the meeting is to address the emergency. The public body convening a meeting in accordance with this subdivision shall:
 - a. Give public notice using the best available method given the nature of the emergency, which notice shall be given contemporaneously with the notice provided to members of the public body conducting the meeting;
 - b. Make arrangements for public access to such meeting; and
 - c. Otherwise comply with the provisions of this section.

B. The following provisions apply to regional public bodies:

1. Subject to the requirements in subsection C, regional public bodies may also conduct any meeting wherein the public business is discussed or transacted through electronic communication means if, on the day of a meeting, a member of a regional public body notifies the chair of the public body that such member's principal residence is more than 60 miles from the meeting location identified in the required notice for such meeting.
2. If participation by a member through electronic communication means is approved pursuant to this subsection, the public body holding the meeting shall record in its minutes the remote location from which the member participated; however, the remote location need not be open to the public.

If a member's participation from a remote location is disapproved because such participation would violate the policy adopted pursuant to subsection C, such disapproval shall be recorded in the minutes with specificity.

2. A quorum of the public body is physically assembled at one primary or central meeting location; and
3. The public body makes arrangements for the voice of the remote participant to be heard by all persons at the primary or central meeting location.

Except as provided in subsection D of § 2.2-3707.01, state public bodies may also conduct any meeting wherein the public business is discussed or transacted through electronic communication means, provided that (i) a quorum of the public body is physically assembled at one primary or central meeting location, (ii) notice of the meeting has been given in accordance with subdivision 2, and (iii) members of the public are provided a substantially equivalent electronic communication means through which to witness the meeting. For the purposes of this subsection, "witness" means observe or listen.

If a state public body holds a meeting through electronic communication means pursuant to this subsection, it shall also hold at least one meeting annually where members in attendance at the meeting are physically assembled at one location and where no members participate by electronic communication means.

2. Notice of any regular meeting held pursuant to this subsection shall be provided at least three working days in advance of the date scheduled for the meeting. Notice, reasonable under the circumstance, of special, emergency, or continued meetings held pursuant to this section shall be given contemporaneously with the notice provided to members of the public body conducting the meeting. For the purposes of this subsection, “continued meeting” means a meeting that is continued to address an emergency or to conclude the agenda of a meeting for which proper notice was given.

Any interruption in the telephonic or video broadcast of the meeting shall result in the suspension of action at the meeting until repairs are made and public access is restored.

3. 4. Public access to the remote locations from which additional members of the public body participate through electronic communication means shall be encouraged but not required. However, if three or more members are gathered at the same remote location, then such remote location shall be open to the public.
5. If access to remote locations is afforded, (i) all persons attending the meeting at any of the remote locations shall be afforded the same opportunity to address the public body as persons attending at the primary or central location and (ii) a copy of the proposed agenda and agenda packets and, unless exempt, all materials that will be distributed to members of the public body for the meeting shall be made available for inspection by members of the public attending the meeting at any of the remote locations at the time of the meeting.

No public body shall vote by secret or written ballot, and unless expressly provided by this chapter, no public body shall vote by telephone or other electronic communication means.

However, such business or industry shall be identified as a matter of public record at least 30 days prior to the actual date of the board's authorization of the sale or issuance of such bonds.

§ 2.2-3712. Closed meetings procedures; certification of proceedings.

A. No closed meeting shall be held unless the public body proposing to convene such meeting has taken an affirmative recorded vote in an open meeting approving a motion that (i) identifies the subject matter, (ii) states the purpose of the meeting as authorized in subsection A of § 2.2-3711 or other provision of law and (iii) cites the applicable exemption from open meeting requirements provided in subsection A of § 2.2-3711 or other provision of law. The matters contained in such motion shall be set forth in detail in the minutes of the open meeting. A general reference to the provisions of this chapter, the authorized exemptions from open meeting requirements, or the subject matter of the closed meeting shall not be sufficient to satisfy the requirements for holding a closed meeting.

B. The notice provisions of this chapter shall not apply to closed meetings of any public body held solely for the purpose of interviewing candidates for the position of chief administrative officer. Prior to any such closed meeting for the purpose of interviewing candidates, the public body shall announce in an open meeting that such closed meeting shall be held at a disclosed or undisclosed location within 15 days thereafter.

C. The public body holding a closed meeting shall restrict its discussion during the closed meeting only to those matters specifically exempted from the provisions of this chapter and identified in the motion required by subsection A.

D. At the conclusion of any closed meeting, the public body holding such meeting shall immediately reconvene in an open meeting and shall take a roll call or other recorded vote to be included in the minutes of that body, certifying that to the best of each member's knowledge (i) only public business matters lawfully exempted from open meeting requirements under this chapter and (ii) only such public business matters as were identified in the motion by which the closed meeting was convened were heard, discussed or considered in the meeting by the public body. Any member of the public body who believes that there was a departure from the requirements of clauses (i) and (ii), shall so state prior to the vote, indicating the substance of the departure that, in his judgment, has taken place. The statement shall be recorded in the minutes of the public body.

E. Failure of the certification required by subsection D to receive the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the public body present during a meeting shall not affect the validity or confidentiality of such meeting with respect to matters considered therein in compliance with the provisions of this chapter. The recorded vote and any statement made in connection therewith, shall upon proper authentication, constitute evidence in any proceeding brought to enforce the provisions of this chapter.

F. A public body may permit nonmembers to attend a closed meeting if such persons are deemed necessary or if their presence will reasonably aid the public body in its consideration of a topic that is a subject of the meeting.

G. A member of a public body shall be permitted to attend a closed meeting held by any committee or subcommittee of that public body, or a closed meeting of any entity, however designated, created to perform the delegated functions of or to advise that public body. Such member shall in all cases be permitted to observe the closed meeting of the committee, subcommittee or entity. In addition to the requirements of § 2.2-3707, the minutes of the committee or other entity shall include the identity of the member of the parent public body who attended the closed meeting.

H. Except as specifically authorized by law, in no event may any public body take action on matters discussed in any closed meeting, except at an open meeting for which notice was given as required by § 2.2-3707.

I. Minutes may be taken during closed meetings of a public body, but shall not be required. Such minutes shall not be subject to mandatory public disclosure.

§ 2.2-3713. Proceedings for enforcement of chapter.

A. Any person, including the attorney for the Commonwealth acting in his official or individual capacity, denied the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter may proceed to enforce such rights and privileges by filing a petition for mandamus or injunction, supported by an affidavit showing good cause. Such petition may be brought in the name of the person notwithstanding that a request for public records was made by the person's attorney in his representative capacity. Venue for the petition shall be addressed as follows:

1. In a case involving a local public body, to the general district court or circuit court of the county or city from which the public body has been elected or appointed to serve and in which such rights and privileges were so denied;
2. In a case involving a regional public body, to the general district or circuit court of the county or city where the principal business office of such body is located; and
3. In a case involving a board, bureau, commission, authority, district, institution, or agency of the state government, including a public institution of higher education, or a standing or other committee of the General Assembly, to the general district court or the circuit court of the residence of the aggrieved party or of the City of Richmond.

B. In any action brought before a general district court, a corporate petitioner may appear through its officer, director or managing agent without the assistance of counsel, notwithstanding any provision of law or Rule of Supreme Court of Virginia to the contrary.

C. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 8.01-644, the petition for mandamus or injunction shall be heard within seven days of the date when the same is made, provided the party against whom the petition is brought has received a copy of the petition at least three working days prior to filing. However, if the petition or the affidavit supporting the petition for mandamus or injunction alleges violations of the open meetings requirements of this chapter, the three day notice to the party against whom the petition is brought shall not be required. The hearing on any petition made outside of the regular terms of the circuit court of a locality that is included in a judicial circuit with another locality or localities shall be given precedence on the docket of such court over all cases that are not otherwise given precedence by law.

D. The petition shall allege with reasonable specificity the circumstances of the denial of the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter. A single instance of denial of the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter shall be sufficient to invoke the remedies granted herein. If the court finds the denial to be in violation of the provisions of this chapter, the petitioner shall be entitled to recover reasonable costs, including costs and reasonable fees for expert witnesses, and attorney fees from the public body if the petitioner substantially prevails on the merits of the case, unless special circumstances would make an award unjust. In making this determination, a court may consider, among other things, the reliance of a public body on an opinion of the Attorney General or a decision of a court that substantially supports the public body's position.

E. In any action to enforce the provisions of this chapter, the public body shall bear the burden of proof to establish an exclusion by a preponderance of the evidence. No court shall be required to accord any weight to the determination of a public body as to whether an exclusion applies. Any failure by a public body to follow the procedures established by this chapter shall be presumed to be a violation of this chapter.

F. Failure by any person to request and receive notice of the time and place of meetings as provided in § 2.2-3707 shall not preclude any person from enforcing his rights and privileges conferred by this chapter.

§ 2.2-3714. Violations and penalties.

In a proceeding commenced against any officer, employee, or member of a public body under § 2.2-3713 for a violation of § 2.2-3704, 2.2-3705.1 through 2.2-3705.7, 2.2-3706, 2.2-3707, 2.2-3708.2, 2.2-3710, 2.2-3711 or 2.2-3712, the court, if it finds that a violation was willfully and knowingly made, shall impose upon such officer, employee, or member in his individual capacity, whether a writ of mandamus or injunctive relief is awarded or not, a civil penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $2,000, which amount shall be paid into the State Literary Fund. For a second or subsequent violation, such civil penalty shall be not less than $2,000 nor more than $5,000.

B. In addition to any penalties imposed pursuant to subsection A, if the court finds that any officer, employee, or member of a public body failed to provide public records to a requester in accordance with the provisions of this chapter because such officer, employee or member altered or destroyed the requested public records with the intent to avoid the provision of this chapter prior to the expiration of the applicable record retention period set by the retention regulations promulgated pursuant to the Virginia Public Records Act (§42.1-76 et seq.) by the State Library Board, the court may impose upon such officer, employee or member in his individual capacity, whether or not a writ of mandamus or injunctive relief is awarded, a civil penalty of up to $100 per record altered or destroyed, which amount shall be paid into the Literary Fund.

C. In addition to any penalties imposed pursuant to subsections A and B, if the court finds that a member of a public body voted to certify a closed meeting in accordance with subsection D of §2.2-3712 and such certification was not in accordance with the requirements of clause (i) or (ii) of subsection D of §2.2-3712, the court may impose on the public body, whether or not a writ of mandamus or injunctive relief is awarded a civil penalty of up to $1,000, which amount shall be paid into the Literary Fund. In determining whether a civil penalty is appropriate, the court shall consider mitigating factors, including reliance of members of the public body on (i) opinions of the Attorney General, (ii) court cases substantially supporting the rationale of the public body, and (iii) published opinions of the Freedom of Information Advisory Council.

§2.2-3715. Effect of advisory opinions from the Freedom of Information Advisory Council on liability for willful and knowing violations.

Any officer, employee, or member of a public body who is alleged to have committed a willful and knowing violation pursuant to §2.2-3714 shall have the right to introduce at any proceeding a copy of a relevant advisory opinion issued pursuant to §30-179 as evidence that he did not willfully and knowingly commit the violation if the alleged violation resulted from his good faith reliance on the advisory opinion.

“Public access” means that the clerk of the circuit court has made available to subscribers that are other than governmental agencies, secure remote access to records maintained by the clerk in accordance with § 17.1-294.

“Secure remote access to court records” means public access by electronic means on a network or system to court records maintained by the clerk of the circuit court or the clerk’s designated application service providers, in compliance with this title, the Rules of the Supreme Court of Virginia, and the secure remote access standards developed by the Virginia Information Technologies Agency.

“Secure remote access to land records” means public access by electronic means on a network or system to land records maintained by the clerk of the circuit court or the clerk’s designated application service providers, in compliance with the Secure Remote Access Standards developed by the Virginia Information Technologies Agency.

“Subscriber” means any person who has entered into a subscriber agreement with the clerk of the circuit court authorizing the subscriber to have secure remote access to land records or secure remote access to court records maintained by the clerk or the clerk’s designated application service providers. If the subscriber is an entity with more than one person who will use the network or system to access land records maintained by the clerk, or the clerk’s designated application service providers, each individual user shall execute a subscriber agreement and obtain a separate “user id” and “password” from the clerk. The subscriber is responsible for the fees due under this title and the proper use of the secure remote access system pursuant to the subscriber agreement, applicable Virginia law, and Secure Remote Access Standards developed by the Virginia Information Technologies Agency.

Virginia Conflict of Interests Act

Guide for Local Government Officials

Introduction

The Virginia Conflict of Interests Act regulates the financial relationship of council members and mayors with their city, town and with any other governmental agency that is related to the local government. The act is intended to be the one-stop-shopping law for a council member's financial involvement in dealings with the city or town. While this guide refers to councils, cities and towns, it is equally applicable to boards of supervisors and counties.

The act regulates how involved a council member may be in an item being considered by council if he or she has a financial interest in that item. The act also defines what constitutes bribery and taking unfair advantage of information gained by reason of being on council. It sets penalties for violations and provides a procedural framework for its enforcement.

The Conflict of Interests Act is codified in Title 2.2, Chapter 31 of the Code of Virginia, § 2.2-3100 and following. While this guide describes the general operation of the law, the reader should consult the law's specific language for a better understanding (code references are given throughout the guide). Furthermore, a council member with questions about a contract or transaction should consult the city or town attorney.

The 2014 General Assembly created the Virginia Conflict of Interest and Ethics Advisory Council ("Council") to review and post online disclosure forms filed by lobbyists and persons subject to the conflict of interest as well as to provide formal opinions, informal advice, education and training. The Council also encourages and facilitates compliance with sections of the code to include, State and Local Government Conflict of Interests Act. The duties and responsibilities of the Council are discussed throughout this report.

Since the Council was created many changes to the law have occurred as the General Assembly attempts to strike a balance between the need for disclosure and the practicality of complying with the law. For instance, the forms were supposed to be filed semi-annually but now will be filed annually. The definition of gift and how to include family members' interests have also been the subject of many changes to this law.

Purpose of the act

The first section of the act, Va. Code § 2.2-3100, sets out the purpose of the law, citing three main goals:

1. To help ensure that the government will fully represent the public in its operation;
2. To give citizens confidence in public officials and the government so they will trust the government, by creating a clear set of rules for government officials; and,
3. To assemble all the laws affecting conflict of interests in a single location in order to create uniform rules. (While COIA largely accomplishes this purpose, additional rules are stated in the Virginia Procurement Act and in various other code sections.)

The act contains three general areas of regulation (listed below). The act also has procedural, enforcement, and penalty provisions that apply to the substantive areas of the law.

Areas of regulation

The act regulates the financial relationship of council members in their localities in three general areas:

1. General provisions covering bribes and other illegal behavior.
2. Regulation of financial interests a council member may have in business dealings with his or her locality and with agencies related to his or her locality. The act calls this a personal interest in a contract.
3. Regulation of the level of involvement a person, in his role as a council member or other public office or job, may have in an item being considered by the member's locality that involves the member's business, property or other personal financial interest. The act calls this a personal interest in a transaction.

I. Generally Prohibited Conduct

Bribes and other illegal behavior

Section § 2.2-3103 prohibits public officials from taking or soliciting bribes and from allowing money to influence their actions. This section applies to a person's actions as a government official; the prohibitions are not aimed at private businesses that may offer the bribes.

The act prohibits a council member from soliciting or accepting money or benefits for doing his or her work as a public official. § 2.2-3103(1). An example would be a council member who takes money for voting on a rezoning to help a developer build a large project. Similarly, a council member may not offer or take money in exchange for landing himself or herself or another person a job with a government agency, or in exchange for obtaining a contract or business deal with the government. §§ 2.2-3103(1) & 3103(2).

Undue influence

One step below the outright bribery rule is the prohibition on taking gifts and opportunities while serving as a public official. §§ 2.2-3103(5), (6), (8), (9) & 2.2-3103.1. The act prohibits a council member from accepting money, loans, gifts, services, business opportunities, or other benefits if it is reasonable to construe that the benefit was given to influence the council member in his or her duties. An exception is made for political campaign contributions – but only if the contribution is used for a political campaign or constituent service purposes and is reported pursuant to the campaign disclosure laws.

A typical example of this issue for cities and towns is when a large developer gives Christmas gifts of substantial value to the members of council. Whether the gift complies with the act is a judgment call in most cases. Is a Christmas turkey reasonable if the developer is also giving the same gift to his employees, his business associates, and his materials suppliers? What if the gift is cookies for the whole staff? The circumstances of the specific case usually indicate whether the gifts are appropriate.

The following items are exempted from the prohibition on gifts: (1) coupons and tickets that are not used; (2) honorary degrees; (3) scholarships or financial aid awards that were awarded in the same manner as they would be to the general public; (4) campaign contributions that are properly received and reported; (5) a gift that relates to the private profession or volunteer service of the officer or a member of the officer's immediate family; (6) food or beverages consumed while attending an event at which the filer is performing official duties related to public service, (7) food or beverages received at or registration of attendance fees waived for any event at which the filer is a featured speaker, presenter, or lecturer, (8) unsolicited awards of appreciation or recognition; (9) a devise or inheritance; (10) travel disclosed under the Campaign Finance Disclosure Act (§24.2-945 et seq.); (11) travel paid for or provided by a government entity; (12) travel provided to facilitate attendance by a legislator at a regular or special session of General Assembly or other meeting approved by the House or Senate Committee on Rules; (13) travel related to an official meeting of, or any meal provided for attendance at such meeting by, the Commonwealth, political subdivisions, or any board, commission, authority, or other entity, or any charitable organization established pursuant to §501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code affiliated with such entity, to which such person has been appointed or elected or is a member by virtue of his office or employment; (14) gifts with a value less than $20; (15) attendance at a reception or similar function where food, such as hors d'oeuvres, and beverages that can be conveniently consumed by a person while standing or walking are offered; or (16) gifts from relatives or personal friends as the act defines "personal friend". § 2.2-3101.

For purposes of §2.2-3101 and what is not a gift, a relative is defined as the donee's spouse, child, uncle, aunt, niece, nephew, or first cousin; a person to whom the donee is engaged to marry, the donee and their spouses' parent, grandparent, grandchild, brother, sister, step-parent, step-grandparent, step-grandchild, step-brother, or step-sister or the donee's brother's or sister's spouse or the donee's son-in-law or daughter-in-law.

The act limits who can be considered a personal friend for the purposes of the disclosure exemption. The reason for this limitation is to ensure that the term "personal friend" is not applied loosely, allowing anyone to qualify for the gift disclosure exemption. Personal friends are discussed further below.

§ 2.2-3103.1 pertains to prohibited gifts. This provision applies to all candidates, officers, and employees of local governments and advisory agencies, and members of their immediate family. These individuals may not solicit, accept or receive a tangible gift that is valued at over $100 or a combination of gifts within a year with an aggregate value of over $100 if it is given to him by (1) a lobbyist, (2) a lobbyist's principal, or (3) a person, organization, or business that is seeking to be or already is a party to a contract with the local agency of which he is an officer or employee. However, the limit only applies to individuals who are required to file a disclosure form prescribed in §2.2-3117. Therefore, it does not apply to officials of localities with a population under 3,500.

A lobbyist or a lobbyist's principal cannot be considered a personal friend. A person, organization, or business cannot be considered a personal friend if that entity or person is a party to a contract with the local government or agency for which the officer or employee works. This is true whether the contract has been granted or if the person, organization, or business is just seeking to be a party to the contract. However, an official may accept a gift with a value in excess of $100 if the gift was from a personal friend. The following factors shall be considered in determining whether someone is a personal friend: (a) the circumstances under which the gift was offered; (b) the history of the relationship to include the nature, duration and previous gift exchanges; (c) to the extent known whether the donor personally paid for the gift or sought a tax deduction or business reimbursement and (d) whether the donor has given similar gifts to other persons required to file disclosure forms. §2.2-3103.1.

Some may wonder how an officer or official would even try to argue that he or she has a personal friendship with an organization or business. In this context, the terms "organization" and "business" include those who are officers, directors, owners, or have a controlling ownership interest in the organization or business. § 2.2-3101.

A council member is also prohibited from taking benefits if he or she knows it is being offered to influence him or her. § 2.2-3103(5). Therefore, even if the gift is not unreasonable, the council member may not accept it if the circumstances or statements of the person giving it make it clear that the money is being given to influence the council member.

A further prohibition is aimed at gifts given by a private party looking for a specific action by the government. § 2.2-3103(8). This subsection prohibits a council member from accepting a gift from a private party whose interests can be affected by the council member's actions, where the timing of the gift would lead a reasonable person to question whether the gift is being given to influence the council member. For example, if the day before an important council vote on a rezoning, the applicant for that rezoning gives the council member $2,000 and calls it a campaign contribution, it would be reasonable to think the money was given to influence the vote. Also, if a council member accepts gifts so often that it creates the appearance that he or she accepts gifts for doing his or her job, that behavior constitutes a violation. § 2.2-3103(9). Violations of these two prohibitions may not be the basis for a criminal charge.

Local governments can adopt ordinance limiting dollar value of gifts

Local governments may adopt an ordinance to limit the dollar value of gifts to the officials and employees of the locality. § 2.2-3104.2. The ordinance can include a required disclosure provision. While legally you may have nothing to fear when disclosing, keep in mind that the appearance of impropriety is often more harmful than the impropriety itself. A $50 limit is often used. While this amount is arbitrary, it does make it simpler for all involved to know what behavior is permissible. Whether or not the locality adopts an ordinance limiting gift amounts, if an award is made to a local government employee for meritorious service by an entity that is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization, there is no conflict and no limit on the gift.

Insider information

It is a violation of the act for a public official to use information not available to the public for his or her own or another person's economic benefit. § 2.2-3103(4). For council members, this prohibition is sometimes unfairly alleged. For example, a local businessman on council who pays attention to public plans submitted to the locality and buys land around the project is not violating the provision. Envious business folks, however, may allege a violation of insider information due to the appearance of the situation. When their actions are based on publicly available information, council members have nothing to fear from such claims – but keep in mind the public's view of the appearance of impropriety.

II. Regulation of council member's actions as a citizen.

Personal interest in a contract

The act sets forth what financial interests a council member may have in business dealings with his or her locality and with agencies related to his or her locality. § 2.2-3107. The act calls this a personal interest in a contract. While this guide's discussion is limited to the restrictions on council members, the act also sets forth different restrictions for school board members (§ 2.2-3108) and for local government employees (§ 2.2-3109).

Council members need to keep in mind the restrictions on the employees of a city or town as they carry out their duties and watch over the affairs of the locality.

According to § 2.2-3107(A), “no person elected or appointed as a member of the governing body of a county, city or town” shall have “a personal interest in a contract” with his or her city or town or with certain other government agencies. (The definition of a personal interest in a contract is described below.)

The council member may not have a personal interest in a contract with any agency of his or her locality, including the departments of the city or town. In addition, he or she may not have a personal interest in a contract with any government agency that is under the council’s ultimate control. For example, if the council appoints a library board, then council members would have ultimate control over the library. Therefore, a council member could not be involved in a contract with the library board.

This section of the act also prohibits involvement in a contract with any agency if the council appoints a majority of the members of that agency’s governing body. For example, if the locality is a member of a regional jail and its council appoints four of the jail board’s seven members, then a council member would be prohibited from being involved in a contract with the jail board.

Definition of personal interest and personal interest in a contract

The act only prohibits a council member’s participation if he or she has a personal interest in the contract with one of the agencies described. The definition of “personal interest in a contract” has three parts: “a personal interest,” a “personal interest in a transaction” and a “personal interest in a contract.” § 2.2-3101.

Personal interest. The definition of a personal interest is the key building block of the act. The term is used throughout. A personal interest exists if any one of the following tests is met:

1. The council member owns at least 3 percent of the equity of a business.
2. The council member has annual income that is or reasonably could be in excess of $5,000 from owning real or personal property or from owning a business.
3. The council member has a salary, other compensation, fringe benefits, or benefits from the use of property or any combination thereof, from the business involved in a contract that exceeds or reasonably could exceed $5,000 annually.

4. The council member’s ownership interest in property exceeds $5,000.
5. The council member’s liability for a business exceeds 3 percent of the equity of the business.
6. The council member has an option on property and, upon exercise of the option, his or her ownership will meet the levels in either test 1 or 4, above.

Immediate Family. In addition to the council member, if any person in the council member’s immediate family has one of the six types of a personal interest, the personal interest exists for the council member. The term “immediate family” always includes the person’s spouse. The term also includes any child living in the home who is the council member’s dependent. The term “child” is defined in Title 1 of the state code as anyone who is less than 18 years old. Therefore, the definition applies to all minor dependents regardless of their relationship to the council member but it does not apply to adult children of the member, even if he is claimed as a dependent. §1-207. If the child, however, is not a dependent of the council member, the child would not be included. §2.2-3101.

As this definition demonstrates, if a council member’s wife has a personal interest in a business that would like to contract with the city, the contract is prohibited even though the husband/council member has no involvement.

Personal Interest in a transaction. A personal interest exists when an officer or employee or immediate family member has a personal interest in property or a business and such property or business is:

1. The subject of the transaction.
2. May realize a reasonable foreseeable direct or indirect benefit or detriment as a result of the action of the agency considering the transaction.

A personal interest in a transaction does not exist when:

1. An elected member of a local governing body serves without remuneration as a member of the board of trustees of a not-for-profit and the member and his immediate family has no personal interest in the entity.
2. An officer, employee, or elected member of a local governing body is appointed by such local governing body to serve on a governmental agency and the personal interest in the transaction is the result of benefits provided to the member or his immediate family.

Personal interest in a contract. If the council member's involvement meets any one of the six definitions of a personal interest, the next step is determining whether the council member has a personal interest in the contract in question. According to the act's definition, a council member has a personal interest in a contract with a government agency if that contract is with the council member or with a business in which he or she has a personal interest. § 2.2-3101.

In looking at a particular contract, it is important to ask: Is a council member or his or her business or property involved in the contract? Does that council member have a personal interest as defined by the act? The answers to these questions will help determine if the contract is prohibited under the act.

Situations where conflicts do not exist

Some situations are not conflicts under the act, even though they may appear to be natural conflicts. If a council member earns a total salary of $4,900 per year from a business, that business could contract with the locality, because the council member would not have a personal interest for purposes of the act. As the third test of the definition – salary – shows, the salary must exceed $5,000 per year to create a personal interest.

If a council member serves on the board of a charitable entity, the fact that the council member has divided loyalties between the charity and the locality does not create a conflict, so long as the council member serves on the charity's board for less than $5,000 compensation per year and doesn't own as much as three percent of the equity of the charity. § 2.2-3101.

Exceptions to conflicts in contracts

The act sets out a series of exceptions to the prohibitions on having a personal interest in a contract.

Exceptions that apply only to council members.

Several exceptions are specific to council members. § 2.2-3107(B).

1. A council member may be an employee of the locality as long as the employment predates his appointment or election to council. § 2.2-3107(B)(1). This section of the law also allows employment and service on council if the person was an employee prior to July 1, 1983, whether or not he or she was elected to council after that date. Even though the law allows employees to serve on council, some localities have banned the practice by charter or by local regulation. If an employee serves on council, he or she will regularly run into potential conflicts when matters come before council that affect his or her employment, such as salary and discipline decisions. (This issue is explored below, in the section on personal interests in a transaction).

2. A council member may buy goods or services from his or her locality as long as they are made available to the public at uniform prices. § 2.2-3107(B)(2).

3. A council member may sell goods to his or her locality if the following conditions are met, pursuant to § 2.2-3107(B)(3):

- a. The purchase must be made by competitive sealed bidding. Therefore, if the contract is being solicited by a request for proposals, the exception doesn't apply.
- b. The contract must be for goods, not services, and the need for the goods must have been established prior to the person's coming on council. An example is if the city needs a tractor, if a council member has a tractor dealership, and if the city had bought tractors prior to the council member's election, the dealership could continue to bid on the contract.
- c. The council member who wants to sell to the locality must play no role in preparing the specifications for the purchase.
- d. The remaining members of council must pass a resolution in writing that the council member's bidding on the contract is in the public interest.

Note: this exception does not apply to providing services, rather only goods. For example, a council member who is an accountant could not provide auditing services to his or her town or city.

Eight exceptions that apply to all local government officials and employees.

The following eight exceptions to the prohibition on having a personal interest in a contract apply not only to council members, but to all other local government officials and employees as well. § 2.2-3110(A).

1. Any sale, lease, or exchange of real property between a council member and his or her locality is allowed as long as the council member doesn't participate in the deal on behalf of council, and the fact that the member wasn't involved is recorded in the public record of the government involved in the transaction. The reason for this exception is that each parcel of real estate is deemed to be unique. If a city needs a certain lot or parcel, the fact that a council member owns it should not prohibit the purchase by the city. § 2.2-3110(A)(1).

2. The prohibition does not apply to contracts for the publication of official notices, presumably so that the local newspaper may be used for ads required by state law even when a council member is an owner or employee of that paper. This is a balancing of needs: the state code requires many notices to be run in the local paper. Without this exception, those requirements could not be met. § 2.2-3110(A)(2).

3. For counties, towns and cities with a population under 10,000 contracts between a council member and his or her locality are allowed, despite the general prohibition, if the total of those contracts does not exceed $5,000 per year. Further, contracts up to $25,000 are allowed if the contract is awarded by competitive sealed bidding. This higher level only applies if the public official has filed a statement of economic interests form. Every council member, except those in localities with populations of 3,500 and under just file that form, so the requirement does not create an added obligation § 2.2-3110(A)(3).

4. If the sole personal interest the council member has in the contract is his or her employment by the contracting business and the council member's annual salary exceeds $5,000, the business may contract with the locality. For this exception to apply, the council member and members of his or her immediate family must have no authority to participate in the deal, and must not participate in the deal. Further, the council member must not participate in the deal on behalf of the locality. A typical example is a contract with a large engineering firm that is the council member's employer. § 2.2-3110(A)(4).

5. If the council member is employed by a public service corporation, a bank, a savings and loan association, or a public utility, and if he or she disqualifies himself from participating on behalf of the city or town and does not participate for his or her locality, then the utility, bank, etc., may contract with the locality. § 2.2-3110(A)(6).

6. The prohibition does not apply to contracts for goods or services below $500. But if a locality normally purchased paper on an annual contract, for example, could it split up a year's worth of paper contracts so that each is less than $500? While the section is silent on splitting up a larger contract to meet this exception, the consensus is that this circumvention would violate the law. § 2.2-3110(A)(7).

7. Program grants made to a council member are allowed if the rates or amounts paid to all qualified applicants are uniform and are established solely by the agency administering the grants. § 2.2-3110(A)(8).

8. If the spouse of a council member is employed by the locality, the personal interest prohibition does not apply if the spouse was employed by the agency five or more years prior to marrying the council member. § 2.2-3110(A)(9). If one spouse is the supervisor of the other spouse, the conflict does not exist if the subordinate spouse earns less than $35,000 per year. § 2.2-3110(B).

III. Council member's participation as public official

Personal interest in a transaction

The rule concerning a personal interest in a transaction sets out the level of involvement a council member may have in an item being considered by his or her council (the transaction) that involves his or her business, property, or other personal financial interest. § 2.2-3112.

As with a personal interest in a contract, the first step is to determine whether the council member has a personal interest in the transaction. The same definition of a personal interest is used in the transactions provisions as in the contracts provisions, but the definition of personal interest in a transaction goes beyond the definition of a personal interest in a contract.

Definition of transaction & personal interest in a transaction

Transaction. In the context of a city or town council, a transaction is defined as any matter considered by the council, a council committee or subcommittee, or any department, agency, or board of the locality, if any official action is taken or is being contemplated. § 2.2-3101.

Personal interest in a transaction. This term is broadly defined as a personal interest of a council member "in any matter considered by his [locality]". § 2.2-3101. Specifically, a personal interest in a transaction exists if a council member or immediate family member has a personal interest (as defined in Part II) in the property, business, or governmental agency – or represents/provides services to any individual or business property – and the property, business, or represented/served individual or business either (1) is the subject of the transaction, or (2) may realize a reasonably foreseeable benefit or detriment as the result of the transaction.

A typical example of representing or servicing an individual or business is where the council member is an accountant and his or her accounting firm handles the books of the business that is the subject of the transaction. Another common example is where the council member or spouse is a principal in an engineering firm that represents an applicant for a land-use permit before council. In these cases, the council member may well have a personal interest in the transaction unless he or she is not directly involved in the representation. An example of a reasonably foreseeable benefit is a council member who loaned $100,000 to a developer, and the developer needs a rezoning to repay the loan.

In practice, if a matter comes before council or a council committee or involves any department of the locality, and a council member has a personal interest in the subject matter or represents the business involved, the council member must then follow the act's requirements for his or her participation in § 2.2-3112 (discussed below in "Levels of transactions" section).

Exceptions and limitation on conflicts

A personal interest in a transaction does not exist if the council member serves on a not-for-profit board without pay and neither the council member nor his immediate family has a personal interest in the not-for-profit organization. (Definition of personal interest in §2.2-3101.)

No conflict exists if an employee or council member of a locality is appointed by his locality to an ex-officio role in a governmental agency and the conflict exists solely due to the employment with the locality or the employment by the locality is of his or her spouse. See the definition of "personal interest in a transaction" in § 2.2-3101.

The act provides in § 2.2-3112(C) that if an employee, but not a council member, is disqualified from participating in the transaction, the employee may still represent his private interests before council as long as he isn't paid for the representation and discloses the nature of his interest. This appears to not apply to council members.

Other employees

Section §2.2-3112 sets out the rules for other government employees having a personal interest in a transaction. The section also contains a list of exceptions that apply to the employees of the government agencies in the locality. Those rules and exceptions do not apply to council members. For example, an employee's spouse may contract with the locality to provide services (for example, accounting) if certain conditions are met. In contrast, a council member's spouse could not provide services to the locality.

Levels of transactions

The fact that a council member has a personal interest in a transaction before council does not always require the member to disqualify himself. The act's requirements for participation, if a personal interest in the transaction does exist, set out three levels of transactions. § 2.2-3112(B).

1. If the council member is in a firm that represents the subject of the transaction, but the council member does not personally represent the subject in the transaction, he may participate in the council discussion provided he complies with the declaration requirements of § 2.2-3114(G) or §2.2-3115(I).

2. If the transaction affects a business, profession, occupation or group of three or more members to which the council member belongs, he may participate in the transaction only if he completes a disclosure form, described in the "Disclosures" section, below. § 2.2-3112(B)(2). For example, if a council votes on the tax rate for professionals, and if the council member is an attorney, that puts him in the subject group affected by the professional license tax. If a town only has two attorneys, then the council member/attorney must disqualify himself from participating.

3. If the transaction affects the public generally, the council member may participate. A council member may obviously vote on raising taxes, even though it affects him, because it affects the public generally. In comparing items 2 and 3, many transactions are considered to affect the public generally, even though not every member of the public is affected. For example, the real estate tax applies only to property owners, but it is considered to affect the general public.

Additional exception

Disqualification under the provisions of this section shall not prevent any employee having a personal interest in a transaction in which his agency is involved from representing himself or a member of his immediate family in such transaction provided he does not receive compensation for such representation and provided he complies with the disqualification and relevant disclosure requirements of this chapter. § 2.2-3112(C)

Effects of disqualification

If a council member is disqualified from participating in a transaction, the act requires several steps. § 2.2-3112:

1. The council member must disclose the interest that causes the disqualification by identifying the interest, including the name and address of the business or property. § 2.2-3115(F). The disclosure is required whether the law requires the disqualification or the council member voluntarily disqualifies himself out of an abundance of caution. The disclosure can be in a written record to the Clerk or verbally and recorded in the minutes of a public meeting.

2. The disclosure must be kept for five years in the records of the council.
3. The council member may not vote on or participate in discussion on the transaction. It is a best practice for the council member to sit in the audience during the discussion and vote.
4. The council member may not attend the portion of a closed meeting at which the transaction is discussed.
5. The council member may not discuss the matter with anyone in the government who is involved in the transaction.

Savings clause for certain votes

The act contains a savings clause to allow the remainder of council to vote when disqualifications rob the council of a quorum. § 2.2-3112(D). The council may act by a vote of the majority of the members who are not disqualified. Even if the law requires a unanimous vote, it only has to be by a unanimous vote of the remaining members. This provision would seem to have the odd result of having only one member of a seven-member council being able to vote and fulfill a unanimous vote requirement if the other six members are disqualified. One caution - the Virginia Supreme Court has ruled that when there are disqualifications, and a vote is taken using this savings clause, the disqualified members of council must remain present to maintain a quorum. If the disqualified members leave the meeting, such that fewer members are present than required for a quorum – a quorum does not exist and the meeting cannot continue. See Jakabcin v. Front Royal, 271 Va. 660, 628 S.E.2d 319 (2006).

In order for a council to sell or lease land, state law requires a three-fourths vote of all people elected to council. § 15.2-2100. Section 2.2-3112(D) of the COI act allows a council member to participate in a discussion and vote on a proposed sale, lease, or similar conveyance of land if the council member's only personal interest in that sale is that he or she is employed by the business that is subject to the contract for the deal.

The Council issued a formal advisory opinion (2017-F-001) on April 24, 2017 confirming the quorum analysis above. The opinion states in part that when 5 members of a 7 member board are in attendance and 2 persons are disqualified from voting, the 3 remaining members do constitute a quorum.

IV. Disclosures

If a transaction affects a group, business, or profession as set forth in § 2.2-3112(B)(1), the council member may participate if he or she certifies in good faith that he or she can represent the public fairly in the transaction. The certification requires the following elements to be identified - § 2.2-3115(H):

- The transaction;
- The nature of the personal interest;
- The fact that the council member is a member of a business, profession, occupation, or group that will be affected by the transaction;
- A statement that the council member is able to participate fairly, objectively, and in the public interest.

If the transaction affects a party that the council member's firm represents but the council member is not involved on behalf of the firm, the disclosure requires the following elements to be identified. § 2.2-3115(I):

- The transaction involved;
- The fact that a party to the transaction is a client of the council member's firm;
- A statement that the council member does not personally represent the client;
- A statement that the council member is able to participate fairly, objectively, and in the public interest.

If either of the disclosures is required, the council member must either state it at the meeting or file it in writing with the clerk of the council or the manager. A written disclosure should be filed before the meeting or, if that is impracticable, by the end of the following business day. § 2.2-3115(H), (I). In both cases, the disclosure is public. VML advises that it is better to make the disclosure at the meeting, orally, when the transaction is on the floor. It is also recommended that the person sit in the audience for the discussion and vote. This conveys a clearer message of self-disqualification than simply handing the clerk a written statement. If the disqualification is handed in with no announcement, the public will wonder why the council member is not participating.

Annual Statement of Economic Interests Form

In addition to transaction-specific disclosures, each council member of every locality with a population of more than 3,500 must file the Statement of Economic Interests form. The Statement of Economic Interests form must be filed annually on or before February 1st for the preceding calendar year. § 2.2-3115.

This disclosure form will be created and provided by the COIA Council at least 30 days prior to the filing deadline. Forms should be disseminated by the clerks of the governing body not less than 20 days prior to the filing deadline. The forms shall be available for review by the public no later than six weeks after the deadline and shall be maintained for five years in the Clerk's Office. § 2.2-3115(D).

The forms will require the disclosure of holdings in excess of $5,000, which is a change from the previous bar of $10,000. § 2.2-3117.

Council may also adopt an ordinance to require other officials and employees of the locality to file the Statement of Economic Interests form pursuant to § 2.2-3115(A). Typically, this provision is used for the city or town manager, but some localities require numerous employees to file the form. Many localities do not require the form to be completed by any employees or officials. The council may require boards, commissions and councils it appoints to file a disclosure form. § 2.2-3115(B).

In localities with a population of more than 3,500, members of planning commissions, boards of zoning appeals, real estate assessors, and all county, city and town managers must file an annual disclosure of real estate interests. § 2.2-3115(G).

The section clarifies that no local government officer or employee is required to file any disclosures not specifically mentioned in the article. § 2.2-3115(C).

Who Files Disclosure Form

The following local officials are required to file the State and Local Statement of Economic Interests per § 2.2-3115:

- Members of the Board of Supervisors
- Members of the City Council
- Members of the Town Council, if the town has a population exceeding 3,500
- Members of the school board
- Persons holding positions of trust appointed or employed by the governing body if the governing body has passed an ordinance requiring them to file
- Persons holding positions of trust appointed or employed by school board if the school board has adopted a policy requiring them to file
- Members of the governing body of any entity established in a county or city with the power to issue bonds or expend funds in excess of $10,000 in any fiscal year if the governing body of the appointing jurisdiction has required them to submit this form

The following local officials are required to file the Financial Disclosure Statement per § 2.2-3115:

- Members of the governing body of any entity established in a county or city with the power to issue bonds or expend funds in excess of $10,000 in any fiscal year unless required to file the Statement of Economic Interest by the governing body of the appointing jurisdiction
- Non-salaried citizen members of local boards, commissions, and councils if the governing body has designated them to file.

The following local officials are required to file the Real Estate Disclosure per § 2.2-3115 (G):

- Planning commission members
- Members of board of zoning appeals
- Real estate assessors
- County, city, or town managers
- Executive officers

V. Enforcement & penalties

Criminal penalties

A knowing violation of the Conflict of Interests Act is a Class 1 misdemeanor. § 2.2-3120. According to the act, a violation is knowingly made if the council member acts or refuses to act when he or she knows that the behavior is either prohibited or required by the act. An example of refusing to do a required act is a council member's refusal to file a disclosure form. A Class 1 misdemeanor has maximum penalties of one year in jail and a fine of $2,500.

Three other specific violations have a lower, Class 3 penalty (maximum $500 fine):

1. Failure to disqualify oneself from participating in a transaction.
2. Failure to file the annual statement of economic interests.
3. Failure to file the statement of reasons for a disqualification in a transaction.

Additional consequences for violations

In addition to the criminal consequences, if the council member is found guilty of a knowing violation, he is also guilty of malfeasance in office. In that case, the judge may order the forfeiture of the seat on council. § 2.2-3122.

If a contract is entered into that involves either a council member who violated the general provisions relating to bribes, insider information, undue influence (§ 2.2-3103), or a violation of the “personal interest in a contract” provisions, the council may rescind the contract. In that case, an innocent contractor may not receive the profits he anticipated in the deal. The contractor may only receive a “reasonable value,” according to § 2.2-3123.

If a council action involves a violation of “the personal interest in a transaction” requirements, the council may rescind the award of a contract or other decision made. In rescinding the action, the best interests of the locality and any third parties are to be considered. § 2.2-3112(D).

If a council member violates any of the general provisions related to bribes and other illegal behavior, the personal interest in a contract rules, or the personal interest in a transaction rules, any value he or she received from the deal is to be forfeited. If the violation was knowingly made, the judge may impose a civil penalty equal to the value received. § 2.2-3124.

Any person required to file the disclosure form shall be entitled to an extension for good cause shown. Good cause includes (i) the death of a relative, (ii) a state emergency declared by the Governor or by the President of the United States or a governor of another state if such emergency interferes with the timely filing of disclosure forms, (iii) being a member of a uniformed services and on active duty on the date of the filing deadline, or (iv) failure of the electronic filing system. 30-356.2(A).

If a person is unable to timely file the disclosure form because it was not made available until after the deadline, the person shall receive a five-day extension upon request. The head of the agency for which the person works or the clerk of the governing body of the locality responsible for providing the disclosure form to such person shall be assessed a civil penalty in the amount equal to $250. If the disclosure form is provided to the person within three days prior to the filing deadline, the person shall receive a three-day extension upon request and no civil penalties will be assessed against the head of such person’s agency or the clerk. 30-356.2(B). This does not apply to statements of economic interest required to be filed as requirement of candidacy. 30-356.2(C).

Advisory opinions

Commonwealth’s Attorney

The law allows some opportunity to avoid a problem by setting up a process to obtain an opinion on the matter from the commonwealth’s attorney. The commonwealth’s attorney is required by § 2.2-3126(B) to issue advisory opinions on whether a fact situation constitutes a violation. In addition to issuing opinions, the commonwealth’s attorney is charged with prosecuting violations of the act by local officials. If the council member gives the attorney all the relevant facts and the attorney determines that the council member is allowed by law to participate, the council member may not be prosecuted for doing so. § 2.2-3121(B). If the commonwealth’s attorney opines that the facts constitute a violation, the council member then may ask the attorney general to review and override the local opinion. The law makes it clear that any written opinions are public records and are therefore available to the public.

If the council member obtains a written opinion from the town or city attorney, based on full disclosure of the facts, the council member may introduce the favorable opinion from the attorney upon challenge. § 2.2-3121(C). However, keep in mind that the town or city attorney cannot provide the legal protection that the Commonwealth’s Attorney or the Conflict of Interest and Ethics Advisory Council.

The Virginia Conflict of Interest and Ethics Advisory Council

The Council is another resource that may be used to help localities and local officials avoid a conflicts or ethics problem. It has the authority to issue formal advisory opinions and guidelines relating to ethics and conflicts issues. Additionally, the Council may issue informal advice in response to specific questions. Any informal advice issued by the Council is protected by attorney-client privilege and is exempt from disclosure under the Virginia Freedom of Information Act. However, if the recipient invokes the immunity provisions of § 2.2-3121 or § 30-124, the record of the request and the informal advice shall be deemed to be a public record and released upon request.

Formal advisory opinions can be found on the COIA Council website as well as the adopted procedures for issuing formal advisory opinions. Formal opinions are public records, but may have some personal information redacted.

Another role of the Council is to provide trainings on ethics and conflicts issues. These training seminars will be available to lobbyists, state and local government officers and employees, legislators, and other interested persons. The materials for these trainings will also be published by the Council, when it is deemed appropriate. § 30-356(7), (9).

What's New

The 2019 General Assembly Session added a training requirement for local elected officials. Each locally elected official must complete Conflict of Interest training (it is online at the Conflict of Interest and Ethics Advisory Council website) within two months of assuming office and thereafter at least once every two years. The local clerk of the respective body shall maintain the records for five years. The first training must be completed by December 31, 2019.

In the 2018 session, 2.2-3118.1 was amended to change filing requirements such that a filing of a single current statement of economic interests by an individual will suffice for the course of the calendar year. Individuals meeting the requirement for filing an annual disclosure statement will not be required to file an additional disclosure statement upon reappointment to the same office or position if the reappointment is within 12 months of the filing.

Senate Joint Resolution number 75 established a two-year joint subcommittee consisting of six legislative members and two non-legislative citizen members to study the ethics laws in the Commonwealth. In conducting its study, the joint subcommittee shall study the disclosure requirements of the members of the General Assembly and lobbyists and identify those portions of the ethics laws that should be repealed, substantially amended, rewritten for clarity, or retained in their present form. In its review, the joint subcommittee shall examine the effectiveness and efficiency of the ethics laws in promoting public trust and confidence in the service of public officials. Although the language of the study focuses on the General Assembly and Lobbyist provisions of the law, changes to these sections will likely result in changes to the State and Local Government Conflicts Act and could affect local government officials. Stay tuned!

Summary

The Virginia Conflict of Interests Act determines when public officials and employees have personal interests in public contracts or transactions, if those interests conflict with the officials' public duties, and how the officials should behave considering such a conflict. COIA dictates the terms for disclosure of public officials' personal and financial interests and decides when officials must disqualify themselves. The act also defines other types of conduct that public officials are prohibited from engaging in, including involvement in bribery, undue influence, and use of insider information.

Council members should always consult COIA's specific language if a potential conflict may arise. Inquiries about specific contracts or transactions should be directed to the relevant city or town attorney. However, keep in mind that the town or city attorney cannot provide the legal protection that the Commonwealth's Attorney or the Conflict of Interest and Ethics Advisory Council. We hope this guide will help local governments become better informed of their responsibilities if a prospective conflict may occur.

Title 2.2. Administration of Government. Chapter 31. State and Local Government Conflict of Interests Act

As required under Virginia Code § 2.2-3100.1, ...”
All officers and employees shall read and familiarize themselves with the provisions of this chapter.”

The text of the COIA act follows to assist local officials in complying with this section of the law.

Additional Code sections that deal with conflicts but that are in other chapters of the Code are included as well.

Article 1. General Provisions.

§ 2.2-3100. Policy; application; construction.

The General Assembly, recognizing that our system of representative government is dependent in part upon (i) citizen legislative members representing fully the public in the legislative process and (ii) its citizens maintaining the highest trust in their public officers and employees, finds and declares that the citizens are entitled to be assured that the judgment of public officers and employees will be guided by a law that defines and prohibits inappropriate conflicts and requires disclosure of economic interests. To that end and for the purpose of establishing a single body of law applicable to all state and local government officers and employees on the subject of conflict of interests, the General Assembly enacts this State and Local Government Conflict of Interests Act so that the standards of conduct for such officers and employees may be uniform throughout the Commonwealth.

This chapter shall supersede all general and special acts and charter provisions which purport to deal with matters covered by this chapter except that the provisions of §§ 15.2-852, 15.2-2287, 15.2-2287.1, and 15.2-2289 and ordinances adopted pursuant thereto shall remain in force and effect. The provisions of this chapter shall be supplemented but not superseded by the provisions on ethics in public contracting in Article 6 (§ 2.2-4367 et seq.) of Chapter 43 of this title and ordinances adopted pursuant to § 2.2-3104.2 regulating receipt of gifts.

The provisions of this chapter do not preclude prosecution for any violation of any criminal law of the Commonwealth, including Articles 2 (Bribery and Related Offenses, § 18.2-438 et seq.) and 3 (Bribery of Public Servants and Party Officials, § 18.2-446 et seq.) of Chapter 10 of Title 18.2, and do not constitute a defense to any prosecution for such a violation.

This chapter shall be liberally construed to accomplish its purpose.

§ 2.2-3100.1. Copy of chapter; review by officers and employees.

Any person required to file a disclosure statement of personal interests pursuant to subsections A or B of § 2.2-3114, subsections A or B of § 2.2-3115 or § 2.2-3116 shall be furnished by the public body’s administrator a copy of this chapter within two weeks following the person’s election, reelection, employment, appointment or reappointment.

All officers and employees shall read and familiarize themselves with the provisions of this chapter.

“Affiliated business entity relationship” means a relationship, other than a parent-subsidiary relationship, that exists when (i) one business entity has a controlling ownership interest in the other business entity, (ii) a controlling owner in one entity is also a controlling owner in the other entity, or (iii) there is shared management or control between the business entities. Factors that may be considered in determining the existence of an affiliated business entity relationship include that the same person or substantially the same person owns or manages the two entities, there are common or commingled funds or assets, the business entities share the use of the same offices or employees, or otherwise share activities, resources or personnel on a regular basis, or there is otherwise a close working relationship between the entities.

For the purpose of this definition, “relative” means the donee’s spouse, child, uncle, aunt, niece, nephew, or first cousin; a person to whom the donee is engaged to be married; the donee’s or his spouse’s parent, grandparent, grandchild, brother, sister, step-parent, step-grandparent, step-grandchild, step-brother, or step-sister; or the donee’s brother’s or sister’s spouse or the donee’s son-in-law or daughter-in-law. “Personal interest in a transaction” means a personal interest of an officer or employee in any matter considered by his agency. Such personal interest exists when an officer or employee or a member of his immediate family has a personal interest in property or a business or governmental agency, or represents or provides services to any individual or business and such property, business or represented or served individual or business (i) is the subject of the transaction or (ii) may realize a reasonably foreseeable direct or indirect benefit or detriment as a result of the action of the agency considering the transaction. Notwithstanding the above, such personal interest in a transaction shall not be deemed to exist where (a) an elected member of a local governing body serves without remuneration as a member of the board of trustees of a not-for-profit entity and such elected member or member of his immediate family has no personal interest related to the not-for-profit entity or (b) an officer, employee, or elected member of a local governing body is appointed by such local governing body to serve on a governmental agency, or an officer, employee, or elected member of a separate local governmental agency formed by a local governing body is appointed to serve on a governmental agency, and the personal interest in the transaction of the governmental agency is the result of the salary, other compensation, fringe benefits, or benefits provided by the local governing body or the separate governmental agency to the officer, employee, elected member, or member of his immediate family.

“Transaction” means any matter considered by any governmental or advisory agency, whether in a committee, subcommittee, or other entity of that agency or before the agency itself, on which official action is taken or contemplated.

Article 2. Generally Prohibited and Unlawful Conduct.

§ 2.2-3102. Application.

This article applies to generally prohibited conduct that shall be unlawful and to state and local government officers and employees.

§ 2.2-3103. Prohibited conduct.

No officer or employee of a state or local governmental or advisory agency shall:

1. Solicit or accept money or other thing of value for services performed within the scope of his official duties, except the compensation, expenses or other remuneration paid by the agency of which he is an officer or employee. This prohibition shall not apply to the acceptance of special benefits that may be authorized by law;
2. Offer or accept any money or other thing of value for or in consideration of obtaining employment, appointment, or promotion of any person with any governmental or advisory agency;
3. Offer or accept any money or other thing of value for or in consideration of the use of his public position to obtain a contract for any person or business with any governmental or advisory agency;
4. Use for his own economic benefit or that of another party confidential information that he has acquired by reason of his public position and which is not available to the public;
5. Accept any money, loan, gift, favor, service, or business or professional opportunity that reasonably tends to influence him in the performance of his official duties. This subdivision shall not apply to any political contribution actually used for political campaign or constituent service purposes and reported as required by Chapter 9.3 (§ 24.2-945 et seq.) of Title 24.2;
6. Accept any business or professional opportunity when he knows that there is a reasonable likelihood that the opportunity is being afforded him to influence him in the performance of his official duties;
7. Accept any honoraria for any appearance, speech, or article in which the officer or employee provides expertise or opinions related to the performance of his official duties. The term “honoraria” shall not include any payment for or reimbursement to such person for his actual travel, lodging, or subsistence expenses incurred in connection with such appearance, speech, or article or in the alternative a payment of money or anything of value not in excess of the per diem deduction allowable under § 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended from time to time. The prohibition in this subdivision shall apply only to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Governor’s Secretaries, and heads of departments of state government;

8. Article 4. Prohibited Conduct Relating to Transactions.

§ 2.2-3111. Application.

This article proscribes certain conduct by state and local government officers and employees having a personal interest in a transaction.

§ 2.2-3112. Prohibited conduct concerning personal interest in a transaction; exceptions.

A. Each officer and employee of any state or local governmental or advisory agency who has a personal interest in a transaction shall disqualify himself from participating in the transaction if (i) the transaction has application solely to property or a business or governmental agency in which he has a personal interest or a business that has a parent-subsidary or affiliated business entity relationship with the business in which he has a personal interest or (ii) he is unable to participate pursuant to subdivision B 1, 2, or 3. Any disqualification under the provisions of this subsection shall be recorded in the public records of the officer's or employee's governmental or advisory agency. The officer or employee shall disclose his personal interest as required by subsection E of § 2.2-3114 or subsection F of § 2.2-3115 and shall not vote or in any manner act on behalf of his agency in the transaction. The officer or employee shall be prohibited from (i) attending any portion of a closed meeting authorized by the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (§ 2.2-3700 et seq.) when the matter in which he has a personal interest is discussed and (ii) discussing the matter in which he has a personal interest with other governmental officers or employees at any time.

B. An officer or employee of any state or local government or advisory agency who has a personal interest in a transaction may participate in the transaction:

1. If he is a member of a business, profession, occupation, or group of three or more persons the members of which are affected by the transaction, and he complies with the declaration requirements of subsection F of § 2.2-3114 or subsection H of § 2.2-3115;
2. When a party to the transaction is a client of his firm if he does not personally represent or provide services to such client and he complies with the declaration requirements of subsection G of § 2.2-3114 or subsection I of § 2.2-3115; or
3. If it affects the public generally, even though his personal interest, as a member of the public, may also be affected by that transaction.

C. Disqualification under the provisions of this section shall not prevent any employee having a personal interest in a transaction in which his agency is involved from representing himself or a member of his immediate family in such transaction provided he does not receive compensation for such representation and provided he complies with the disqualification and relevant disclosure requirements of this chapter.

D. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if disqualifications of officers or employees in accordance with this section leave less than the number required by law to act, the remaining member or members shall constitute a quorum for the conduct of business and have authority to act for the agency by majority vote, unless a unanimous vote of all members is required by law, in which case authority to act shall require a unanimous vote of remaining members. Notwithstanding any provisions of this chapter to the contrary, members of a local governing body whose sole interest in any proposed sale, contract of sale, exchange, lease or conveyance is by virtue of their employment by a business involved in a proposed sale, contract of sale, exchange, lease or conveyance, and where such member's or members' vote is essential to a constitutional majority required pursuant to Article VII, Section 9 of the Constitution of Virginia and § 15.2-2100, such member or members of the local governing body may vote and participate in the deliberations of the governing body concerning whether to approve, enter into or execute such sale, contract of sale, exchange, lease or conveyance. F. The provisions of subsection A shall not prevent an employee from participating in a transaction regarding textbooks or other educational material for students at state institutions of higher education, when those textbooks or materials have been authored or otherwise created by the employee.

The provisions of this section shall not prevent any justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia, judge of the Court of Appeals of Virginia, judge of any circuit court, judge or substitute judge of any district court, member of the State Corporation Commission, or member of the Virginia Workers' Compensation Commission from participating in a transaction where such individual's participation involves the performance of adjudicative responsibilities as set forth in Canon 3 of the Canons of Judicial Conduct for the State of Virginia. However, nothing in this subsection shall be construed to authorize such individual's participation in a transaction if such participation would constitute a violation of the Canons of Judicial Conduct for the State of Virginia.

§ 2.2-3122. Knowing violation of chapter constitutes malfeasance in office or employment.

Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of malfeasance in office or employment. Upon conviction thereof, the judge or jury trying the case, in addition to any other fine or penalty provided by law, may order the forfeiture of such office or employment.

§ 2.2-3123. Invalidation of contract; rescision of sales.

A. Any contract made in violation of § 2.2-3103 or §§ 2.2-3106 through 2.2-3109 may be declared void and may be rescinded by the governing body of the contracting or selling governmental agency within five years of the date of such contract. In cases in which the contract is invalidated, the contractor shall retain or receive only the reasonable value, with no increment for profit or commission, of the property or services furnished prior to the date of receiving notice that the contract has been voided. In cases of rescision of a contract of sale, any refund or restitution shall be made to the contracting or selling governmental agency.

B. Any purchase by an officer or employee made in violation of § 2.2-3103 or §§ 2.2-3106 through 2.2-3109 may be rescinded by the governing body of the contracting or selling governmental agency within five years of the date of such purchase.

§ 2.2-3124. Civil penalty from violation of this chapter.

A. In addition to any other fine or penalty provided by law, an officer or employee who knowingly violates any provision of §§ 2.2-3103 through 2.2-3112 shall be subject to a civil penalty in an amount equal to the amount of money or thing of value received as a result of such violation. If the thing of value received by the officer or employee in violation of §§ 2.2-3103 through 2.2-3112 increases in value between the time of the violation and the time of discovery of the violation, the greater value shall determine the amount of the civil penalty. Further, all money or other things of value received as a result of such violation shall be forfeited in accordance with the provisions of § 19.2-386.33.

B. An officer or employee required to file the disclosure form prescribed by § 2.2-3117 who fails to file such form within the time period prescribed shall be assessed a civil penalty in an amount equal to $250. The Council shall notify the Attorney General of any state officer's or employee's failure to file the required form and the Attorney General shall assess and collect the civil penalty. The clerk of the school board or the clerk of the governing body of the county, city, or town shall notify the attorney for the Commonwealth for the locality in which the officer or employee was elected or is employed of any local officer's or employee's failure to file the required form and the attorney for the Commonwealth shall assess and collect the civil penalty. The Council shall notify the Attorney General and the clerk shall notify the attorney for the Commonwealth within 30 days of the deadline for filing. All civil penalties collected pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited into the general fund and used exclusively to fund the Council.

§ 2.2-3125. Limitation of actions.

The statute of limitations for the criminal prosecution of a person for violation of any provision of this chapter shall be one year from the time the Attorney General, if the violation is by a state officer or employee, or the attorney for the Commonwealth, if the violation is by a local officer or employee, has actual knowledge of the violation or five years from the date of the violation, whichever event occurs first. Any prosecution for malfeasance in office shall be governed by the statute of limitations provided by law.

§ 2.2-3126. Enforcement.

A. The provisions of this chapter relating to an officer or employee serving at the state level of government shall be enforced by the Attorney General.

In addition to any other powers and duties prescribed by law, the Attorney General shall have the following powers and duties within the area for which he is responsible under this section:

1. He shall advise the agencies of state government and officers and employees serving at the state level of government on appropriate procedures for complying with the requirements of this chapter. He may review any disclosure statements, without notice to the affected person, for the purpose of determining satisfactory compliance, and shall investigate matters that come to his attention reflecting possible violations of the provisions of this chapter by officers and employees serving at the state level of government;
2. If he determines that there is a reasonable basis to conclude that any officer or employee serving at the state level of government has knowingly violated any provision of this chapter, he shall designate an attorney for the Commonwealth who shall have complete and independent discretion in the prosecution of such officer or employee;
3. He shall render advisory opinions to any state officer or employee who seeks advice as to whether the facts in a particular case would constitute a violation of the provisions of this chapter. He shall determine which opinions or portions thereof are of general interest to the public and may, from time to time, be published.

Irrespective of whether an opinion of the Attorney General has been requested and rendered, any person has the right to seek a declaratory judgment or other judicial relief as provided by law.

B. The provisions of this chapter relating to an officer or employee serving at the local level of government shall be enforced by the attorney for the Commonwealth within the political subdivision for which he is elected.

Each attorney for the Commonwealth shall be responsible for prosecuting violations by an officer or employee serving at the local level of government and, if the Attorney General designates such attorney for the Commonwealth, violations by an officer or employee serving at the state level of government. In the event the violation by an officer or employee serving at the local level of government involves more than one local jurisdiction, the Attorney General shall designate which of the attorneys for the Commonwealth of the involved local jurisdictions shall enforce the provisions of this chapter with regard to such violation.

Each attorney for the Commonwealth shall establish an appropriate written procedure for implementing the disclosure requirements of local officers and employees of his county, city or town, and for other political subdivisions, whose principal offices are located within the jurisdiction served by such attorney for the Commonwealth. The attorney for the Commonwealth shall provide a copy of this act to all local officers and employees in the jurisdiction served by such attorney who are required to file a disclosure statement pursuant to Article 5 (§ 2.2-3113 et seq.) of this chapter. Failure to receive a copy of the act shall not be a defense to such officers and employees if they are prosecuted for violations of the act.

Each attorney for the Commonwealth shall render advisory opinions as to whether the facts in a particular case would constitute a violation of the provisions of this chapter to the governing body and any local officer or employee in his jurisdiction and to political subdivisions other than a county, city or town, including regional political subdivisions whose principal offices are located within the jurisdiction served by such attorney for the Commonwealth. If the advisory opinion is written, then such written opinion shall be a public record and shall be released upon request. In case the opinion given by the attorney for the Commonwealth indicates that the facts would constitute a violation, the officer or employee affected thereby may request that the Attorney General review the opinion. A conflicting opinion by the Attorney General shall act to revoke the opinion of the attorney for the Commonwealth. The Attorney General shall determine which of his reviewing opinions or portions thereof are of general interest to the public and may, from time to time, be published.

Irrespective of whether an opinion of the attorney for the Commonwealth or the Attorney General has been requested and rendered, any person has the right to seek a declaratory judgment or other judicial relief as provided by law.

§ 2.2-3127. Venue.

Any prosecution for a violation involving an officer serving at the state level of government shall be brought in the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond. Any prosecution for a violation involving an employee serving at the state level of government shall be within the jurisdiction in which the employee has his principal place of state employment.

Any proceeding provided in this chapter shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction within the county or city in which the violation occurs if the violation involves an officer or employee serving at the local level of government.

2. For a person who becomes a state filer with the agency after January 1, 2004, within two months after he or she becomes a state filer and at least once during each consecutive period of two calendar years commencing on the first odd-numbered year thereafter.

§ 2.2-3131. Exemptions.

A. The requirements of § 2.2-3130 shall not apply to state filers with a state agency who have taken an equivalent ethics orientation course through another state agency within the time periods set forth in subdivision 1 or 2 of § 2.2-3130, as applicable.

B. State agencies may jointly conduct and state filers from more than one state agency may jointly attend an orientation course required by § 2.2-3128, as long as the course content is relevant to the official duties of the attending state filers.

C. Before conducting each orientation course required by § 2.2-3128, state agencies shall consult with the Attorney General and the Virginia Conflict of Interest and Ethics Advisory Council regarding appropriate course content.

§2.2-3132. Training on prohibited conduct and conflicts of interest.

B. Each local elected official shall complete the training session described in subsection A within two months after assuming the local elected office and thereafter at least once during each consecutive period of two calendar years while he holds such office, commencing with the date on which he last completed a training session. No penalty shall be imposed on a local elected official for failing to complete a training session.

C. The clerk of the respective governing body or school board shall maintain records indicating local elected officials subject to the training requirement and the dates of their completion of a training session pursuant to subsection B. Such records shall be maintained as public records for five years in the office of the clerk of the respective governing body or school board.

All appointments following the initial staggering of terms shall be for terms of four years, except that appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired terms in the same manner as the original appointment. No nonlegislative citizen member shall be eligible to serve for more than two successive four-year terms. However, after the expiration of a term of three years or less, or after the expiration of the remainder of a term to which appointed to fill a vacancy, two additional terms may be served by such member if appointed thereto. Legislative members and other state government officials shall serve terms coincident with their terms of office. Legislative members may be reappointed for successive terms.

If a disclosure form is found to have not been filed or to have been incomplete as filed, the Council shall notify the filer in writing and direct the filer to file a completed disclosure form within a prescribed period of time, and such notification shall be confidential and is excluded from the provisions of the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (§ 2.2-3700 et seq.);

The Council may authorize a designee to furnish formal opinions or informal advice. Formal advisory opinions are public record and shall be published on the Council's website; however, no formal advisory opinion furnished by a designee of the Council shall be available to the public or published until such opinion has been approved by the Council. Published formal advisory opinions may have such deletions and changes as may be necessary to protect the identity of the person involved or other persons supplying information. Informal advice given by the Council or the Council's designee is confidential and is excluded from the mandatory disclosure provisions of the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (§ 2.2-3700 et seq.); however, if the recipient invokes the immunity provisions of § 2.2-3121 or 30-124, the record of the request and the informal advice given shall be deemed to be a public record and shall be released upon request. 13. Report on or before December 1 of each year on its activities and findings regarding Article 3 and the Acts, including recommendations for changes in the laws, to the General Assembly and the Governor. The annual report shall be submitted by the chairman as provided in the procedures of the Division of Legislative Automated Systems for the processing of legislative documents and reports and shall be published as a state document.

§ 30-356.1. Request for approval for certain travel.

A. The Council shall receive and review a request for the approval of travel submitted by a person required to file the disclosure form prescribed in § 2.2-3117 or 30-111 to accept any travel-related transportation, lodging, hospitality, food or beverage, or other thing of value that has a value exceeding $100 where such approval is required pursuant to subsection G of § 2.2-3103.1 or subsection F of § 30-103.1. 1. Travel disclosed pursuant to the Campaign Finance Disclosure Act (§ 24.2-945 et seq.);
2. Travel paid for or provided by the government of the United States, any of its territories, or any state or any political subdivision of such state;
3. 4. Travel related to an official meeting of the Commonwealth, its political subdivisions, or any board, commission, authority, or other entity, or any charitable organization established pursuant to § 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code affiliated with such entity, to which such person has been appointed or elected or is a member by virtue of his office or employment.

B. When reviewing a request for the approval of travel, the Council shall consider the purpose of the travel as it relates to the official duties of the requester. The Council shall approve any request for travel that bears a reasonable relationship between the purpose of the travel and the official duties of the requester. Such travel shall include any meeting, conference, or other event (i) composed primarily of public officials, (ii) at which public policy related to the duties of the requester will be discussed in a substantial manner, (iii) reasonably expected to educate the requester on issues relevant to his official duties or to enhance the requester's knowledge and skills relative to his official duties, or (iv) at which the requester has been invited to speak regarding matters reasonably related to the requester's official duties.

C. The Council shall not approve any travel requests that bear no reasonable relationship between the purpose of the proposed travel and the official duties of the requester. In making such determination, the Council shall consider the duration of travel, the destination of travel, the estimated value of travel, and any previous or recurring travel.

D. Within five business days of receipt of a request for the approval of travel, the Council shall grant or deny the request, unless additional information has been requested. If additional information has been requested, the Council shall grant or deny the request for the approval within five business days of receipt of such information. If the Council has not granted or denied the request for approval of travel or requested additional information within such five-day period, such travel shall be deemed to have been approved by the Council. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude a person from amending or resubmitting a request for the approval of travel. The Council may authorize a designee to review and grant or deny requests for the approval of travel.

E. A request for the approval of travel shall be on a form prescribed by the Council and made available on its website. Such form may be submitted by electronic means, facsimile, in-person submission, or mail or commercial mail delivery.

F. No person shall be prosecuted, assessed a civil penalty, or otherwise disciplined for acceptance of a travel-related thing of value if he accepted the travel-related thing of value after receiving approval under this section, regardless of whether such approval is later withdrawn, provided the travel occurred prior to the withdrawal of the approval.

§ 30-356.2. Right to grant extensions in special circumstances; civil penalty.

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any person required to file the disclosure form prescribed in Article 3 or the Acts shall be entitled to an extension where good cause for granting such an extension has been shown, as determined by the Council. Good cause shall include:

1. The death of a relative of the filer, as relative is defined in the definition of "gift" in Article 3 or the Acts.
2. A state of emergency is declared by the Governor pursuant to Chapter 3.2 (§ 44-146.13 et seq.) of Title 44 or declared by the President of the United States or the governor of another state pursuant to law and confirmed by the Governor by an executive order, and such an emergency interferes with the timely filing of disclosure forms. The extension shall be granted only for those filers in areas affected by such emergency.
3. The filer is a member of a uniformed service of the United States and is on active duty on the date of the filing deadline.
4. A failure of the electronic filing system and the failure of such system prevents the timely filing of disclosure forms.

B. For any person who is unable to timely file the disclosure form prescribed in the Acts due to the disclosure form not being made available to him until after the deadline has passed, the Council shall grant such person a five-day extension upon request. The head of the agency for which the person works or the clerk of the school board or governing body of the locality that was responsible for providing the disclosure form to such person shall be assessed a civil penalty in the amount equal to $250, to be collected in accordance with the procedure set forth in subsection B of § 2.2-3124. If the disclosure form is provided to the person within three days prior to the filing deadline, the Council shall grant such person a three-day extension upon request and no civil penalties shall be assessed against the head of such person's agency or the clerk.

C. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any statement of economic interests filed as a requirement of candidacy pursuant to § 24.2-502.

§ 30-357. Staff.

Staff assistance to the Council shall be provided by the Division of Legislative Services. Staff shall perform those duties assigned to it by the Council, including those duties enumerated in § 30-356. Virginia Public Records Act Requirements

By Jeffrey S. Gore and Roger C. Wiley
Hefty Wiley & Gore PC

Local government officials generally are not enthusiastic about the Virginia Public Records Act (the “Act”). Many elected officials are only vaguely aware that the Act exists. Managers and agency heads are likely to view it as just another nuisance requirement imposed by the state or even as an example of that most despised species --an unfunded mandate. Other local officials may be puzzled about how to handle the masses of paper that clutter their offices or the electronic messages and documents that fill up their email inboxes and hard drives.

All of those reactions are predictable and sometimes they may seem valid. Certainly the state is not sending localities money to spend on records management. Most of the Act’s requirements, however, merely reflect what would be viewed as good business and management practice. No organization can really operate efficiently if it can’t determine what it did last month, last year, or 10 years ago.

Dependence on one’s own memory of past events can be very risky, and although most organizations have a few long-serving individuals who provide “institutional memory,” all of them move on eventually. Keeping records and maintaining them in an accessible manner is vital not only for those who come along later, but for our own daily performance.

Having an effective system for keeping the records that are important and getting rid of those that are no longer needed, to make room for new ones, is just common sense. Still, it is easy to neglect records management. Getting today’s work done can always claim priority over organizing and storing records of yesterday’s work. Some of us are instinctively good at file maintenance while others need to be prodded.

The more positive way to view the Public Records Act is that, by imposing some legal requirements, it forces us to think about records management and assign it as a specific task to someone in our organization. The Act’s legal mandate also gives officials a justification for budgeting and spending the resources necessary to make a records management system function properly.

We hope that this handbook will give local government officials a basic understanding of the Virginia Public Records Act and how to comply with it. In its opening section you will find a discussion of the Act’s basic requirements, presented in question and answer format, followed by several appendices that contain additional detailed information, as shown in the Table of Contents.

What is the purpose of the Virginia Public Records Act?

Virginia Public Records Act (the “Act”) is found in Chapter 7 of Title 42.1 of the Code of Virginia, the Title dealing with “Libraries.” It is located in that part of the Code because the Library of Virginia is the state agency designated to administer the Act and issue regulations to implement it. The Act establishes the basic rules and authorizes the Library to issue more detailed regulations specifying how state and local public agencies, officials and employees handle “public records.” This includes determining exactly what constitutes a public record, how and long to maintain that public record, and when and how to eventually dispose of it – all of which the Act describes as the “lifecycle” of the public record.

What is a public record?

As defined in the Act, a public record is any recorded information possessed by a public agency, public official or public employee that documents a transaction or activity by or with any such agency, official or employee. The recorded information is a public record if it is produced, collected, received or retained in connection with the transaction of public business, regardless of its physical form. The medium (paper, film, magnetic or electronic file, etc.) on which the information is recorded has no bearing on whether it is a public record.

What local agencies officials are covered by the Act’s requirements? Does it also apply to elected constitutional officers?

The Act applies to all departments, divisions, boards, commissions and authorities of a locality or in which a locality participates to conduct public business.

Officers and employees of these various local agencies have a responsibility to comply the Act’s requirements for the records they create or receive.

Elected city and county constitutional officers and the staffs and records of their offices are specifically included in the definitions of covered officials and agencies.

What about members of a local governing body?

Members of a city or town council, or county board of supervisors, regardless of their terms or compensation, are officers of the locality and are thus subject to the Act's requirement. In the past, many of them have not treated their individual correspondence and other records about public business, kept at home or in their private places of employment, as public records.

Legally, however, the Act does apply to these records. In recent years, as requests for disclosure of members' individual records under the Virginia Freedom of Information Act have become more common, clerks of governing bodies and local government managers and attorneys have begun assisting their governing bodies in establishing better systems to maintain these records and comply with the Act.

What are the primary responsibilities of local governments under the Act?

- Tell governing body members to read the Act.

Every person elected, re-elected, appointed, or reappointed to the governing body of any locality or other local public body subject to the Act must be provided a copy of the Act within two weeks of election, re-election, appointment or reappointment. The Act assigns responsibility for doing this to the public body's chief administrator, agency head or legal counsel, but in practice the duty may be delegated to someone else, such as the clerk of the public body. The Act also requires members of the public body to read and become familiar with the Act after they receive it. Following this explanation is a copy of the Act with amendments through July 1, 2018, to be used for this purpose.

- Designate a local public records officer.

Every locality is required to designate at least one records officer to serve as a liaison to the Library of Virginia, and to implement and oversee a records management program, and coordinate the disposition, including destruction, of obsolete records. Local records officers can be designated either by the governing body of the locality or agency or by its chief administrative officer. The locality must give the Library contact information for its designated public records officers and update that information as it changes. Larger localities and organizations may decide to designate more than one records officer, with some having responsibility for the records of only a single department, but all public records in the locality must have someone designated to be responsible for them. The Library conducts training programs for local records officers to help them understand and comply with the requirements of the Act.

- Establish a local records management and retention program

The Act requires every locality and local agency to "ensure that its public records are preserved, maintained, and accessible throughout their lifecycle." The Library has published a very good technical manual for the establishment of a records management program, which along with much other useful information, is available on the public records section of the Library's website: <http://www.lva.virginia.gov/agencies/records/>.

What are some duties of a records retention officer?

The primary duties are to be certain that the departments or agencies for which the officer is responsible keep their records for the required length of time, maintain them in an accessible manner, and destroy them when it is time to do so.

What does "accessible throughout their lifecycle" mean?

How many of us have a box or drawer in our office full of five floppy disks or 3.5 inch diskettes, but no longer have a drive on our desktop computer with which to read them? One of the jobs of the records retention officer is to make sure that records aren't made inaccessible in that way. Records must be maintained in a form that can be viewed or read for as long as those records are required to be kept. For paper records that is generally not a problem, except for very old records that must be kept permanently. These may require photographing, copying or scanning to preserve their contents. For records stored in other media, the Act requires that they be converted or migrated to new media as technologies become obsolete, "as often as necessary so that information is not lost due to hardware, software, or media obsolescence or deterioration."

How long do records have to be kept?

The length of time varies depending on the type of record. As authorized by the Act, the Library of Virginia has established retention schedules for various categories of state and local government records. Some types of records must be maintained permanently. For certain types of permanent records that are considered essential, copies must also be made and sent to the Library for storage, so they can be recovered in case the originals are destroyed by fire, flood or other catastrophe. Other types of records must be kept only a few years and then destroyed. All the schedules are also available online: www.lva.virginia.gov/agencies/records/sched_local/index.htm.

Are we really obligated to destroy some older records? Why?

Yes, the Act requires destruction of public records “in a timely manner” once their designated retention period has expired. The Library’s website has more guidance – www.lva.virginia.gov/agencies/records/timely.asp.

In part, this requirement is intended to make room for new records by getting rid of ones no longer needed. The Act also says that it is state policy for records management to be uniform throughout the Commonwealth. Requiring destruction on a regular schedule ensures that records of the same age and type will be available in all localities at any given time. This is helpful to someone researching information of the same type in more than one locality. Following the schedules for destruction of records will also be helpful in limiting the scope of future requests for disclosure of records under the Virginia Freedom of Information Act.

What conditions must be met before destroying records?

First, the designated retention schedule for the records must have expired. Second, the records must not be the subject of any current Freedom of Information Act disclosure request, litigation or audit, or any proposed change in the retention schedules. Third, the locality or agency’s designated public records officer must have certified on a form approved by the Library that the records are appropriate for destruction. After the records are destroyed that form must be sent to the Library. The forms required for the record destruction process are found in Appendix C of this handbook.

Can we give the records away or sell them instead of destroying them?

The Act requires that any records created before 1912 be offered to the Library of Virginia before being destroyed. Selling public records or giving them to anyone else is specifically prohibited by the Act.

What are the consequences if we don’t comply with the retention and destruction requirements for our records? Are there fines or penalties?

Unlike the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), the Public Records does not authorize private citizens to sue public agencies or officials to force them to comply with the Act. The Librarian of Virginia is given limited authority to sue someone who is illegally retaining public records that he is not entitled to keep, such as an officeholder whose term has expired. The Act also gives the Library the power to audit state or local agencies for compliance with the Act and to report non-compliance to the local governing body and the General Assembly. Such audits are not frequent, and the Library has no power to impose monetary or other penalties for non-compliance even when revealed by audit.

Why do we need to comply, then?

The best reason for compliance is that good records management can make your organization more efficient and benefit both current and future local officials. Legally, the lack of a specific penalty does not change your legal obligation to comply with the Act, and deliberately ignoring it could be cited as poor job performance, or even as malfeasance in an extreme case.

The Freedom of Information Act may provide another reason to comply with the Public Records Act in some cases. When a citizen requests access to a record under FOIA, the local agency or official has an obligation to produce that record, unless it is covered by a specific statutory exemption.

If the record has been discarded or destroyed before the end of the retention period established by the State Library, the failure to comply with the Public Records Act may be revealed, which is embarrassing at the very least. We are not aware that any court has ruled that failure to produce the record due to its premature destruction also constitutes a violation of FOIA, but we believe such an argument could be made. FOIA violations, of course, can result in civil penalties and payment of the requester’s attorney fees.

Title 42.1. Libraries. Chapter 7. Virginia Public Records Act.

As required under Virginia Code § 42.1-76.1, § 2.2-3702, “Any person elected, reelected, appointed, or reappointed to the governing body of any agency subject to this chapter shall... read and become familiar with the provisions of this chapter.”

The text of the Public Records Act follows to assist local officials in complying with this section of the Act.

§ 42.1-76. Legislative intent; title of chapter.

The General Assembly intends by this chapter to establish a single body of law applicable to all public officers and employees on the subject of public records management and preservation and to ensure that the procedures used to manage and preserve public records will be uniform throughout the Commonwealth.

This chapter may be cited as the Virginia Public Records Act.

§ 42.1-76.1. Notice of Chapter.

Any person elected, reelected, appointed, or reappointed to the governing body of any agency subject to this chapter shall (i) be furnished by the agency or public body’s administrator or legal counsel with a copy of this chapter within two weeks following election, reelection, appointment, or reappointment and (ii) read and become familiar with the provisions of this chapter.

§ 42.1-77. Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

“Agency” means all boards, commissions, departments, divisions, institutions, authorities, or parts thereof, of the Commonwealth or its political subdivisions and includes the offices of constitutional officers.

“Archival quality” means a quality of reproduction consistent with established standards specified by state and national agencies and organizations responsible for establishing such standards, such as the Association for Information and Image Management, the American National Standards Institute, and the National Institute of Standards and Technology.

“Archival record” means a public record of continuing and enduring value useful to the citizens of the Commonwealth and necessary to the administrative functions of public agencies in the conduct of services and activities mandated by law that is identified on a Library of Virginia approved records retention and disposition schedule as having sufficient informational value to be permanently maintained by the Commonwealth.

“Archives” means the program administered by The Library of Virginia for the preservation of archival records.

“Board” means the State Library Board.

“Conversion” means the act of moving electronic records to a different format, especially data from an obsolete format to a current format.

“Custodian” means the public official in charge of an office having public records.

“Disaster plan” means the information maintained by an agency that outlines recovery techniques and methods to be followed in case of an emergency that impacts the agency’s records.

“Electronic record” means a public record whose creation, storage, and access require the use of an automated system or device. Ownership of the hardware, software, or media used to create, store, or access the electronic record has no bearing on a determination of whether such record is a public record.

“Essential public record” means records that are required for recovery and reconstruction of any agency to enable it to resume its core operations and functions and to protect the rights and interests of persons.

“Librarian of Virginia” means the State Librarian of Virginia or his designated representative.

“Lifecycle” means the creation, use, maintenance, and disposition of a public record.

“Metadata” means data describing the context, content, and structure of records and their management through time.

“Migration” means the act of moving electronic records from one information system or medium to another to ensure continued access to the records while maintaining the records’ authenticity, integrity, reliability, and usability.

“Original record” means the first generation of the information and is the preferred version of a record. Archival records should to the maximum extent possible be original records.

“Preservation” means the processes and operations involved in ensuring the technical and intellectual survival of authentic records through time.

“Private record” means a record that does not relate to or affect the carrying out of the constitutional, statutory, or other official ceremonial duties of a public official, including the correspondence, diaries, journals, or notes that are not prepared for, utilized for, circulated, or communicated in the course of transacting public business.

“Public official” means all persons holding any office created by the Constitution of Virginia or by any act of the General Assembly, the Governor and all other officers of the executive branch of the state government, and all other officers, heads, presidents or chairmen of boards, commissions, departments, and agencies of the state government or its political subdivisions.

“Public record” or “record” means recorded information that documents a transaction or activity by or with any public officer, agency or employee of an agency. Regardless of physical form or characteristic, the recorded information is a public record if it is produced, collected, received or retained in pursuance of law or in connection with the transaction of public business. The medium upon which such information is recorded has no bearing on the determination of whether the recording is a public record.

For purposes of this chapter, “public record” shall not include nonrecord materials, meaning materials made or acquired and preserved solely for reference use or exhibition purposes, extra copies of documents preserved only for convenience or reference, and stocks of publications.

“Records retention and disposition schedule” means a Library of Virginia-approved timetable stating the required retention period and disposition action of a records series. The administrative, fiscal, historical, and legal value of a public record shall be considered in appraising its appropriate retention schedule. The terms “administrative,” “fiscal,” “historical,” and “legal” value shall be defined as:

1. “Administrative value”: Records shall be deemed of administrative value if they have continuing utility in the operation of an agency.
2. “Fiscal value”: Records shall be deemed of fiscal value if they are needed to document and verify financial authorizations, obligations, and transactions.
3. “Historical value”: Records shall be deemed of historical value if they contain unique information, regardless of age, that provides understanding of some aspect of the government and promotes the development of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

4. “Legal value”: Records shall be deemed of legal value if they document actions taken in the protection and proving of legal or civil rights and obligations of individuals and agencies.

§ 42.1-78. Confidentiality safeguarded.

Any records made confidential by law shall be so treated. Records which by law are required to be closed to the public shall not be deemed to be made open to the public under the provisions of this chapter. Records in the custody of The Library of Virginia which are required to be closed to the public shall be open for public access 75 years after the date of creation of the record. No provision of this chapter shall be construed to authorize or require the opening of any records ordered to be sealed by a court. All records deposited in the archives that are not made confidential by law shall be open to public access.

§ 42.1-79. Records management function vested in The Library of Virginia.

A. The archival and records management function shall be vested in The Library of Virginia. The Library of Virginia shall be the official custodian and trustee for the Commonwealth of all public records of whatever kind, and regardless of physical form or characteristics, that are transferred to it from any agency. As the Commonwealth’s official repository of public records, The Library of Virginia shall assume ownership and administrative control of such records on behalf of the Commonwealth. The Library of Virginia shall own and operate any equipment necessary to manage and retain control of electronic archival records in its custody, but may, at its discretion, contract with third-party entities to provide any or all services related to managing archival records on equipment owned by the contractor, by other third parties, or by The Library of Virginia.

B. The Librarian of Virginia shall name a State Archivist who shall perform such functions as the Librarian of Virginia assigns.

C. Whenever legislation affecting public records management and preservation is under consideration, The Library of Virginia shall review the proposal and advise the General Assembly on the effects of its proposed implementation.

§ 42.1-82. Duties and powers of Library Board.

A. The State Library Board shall:

1. Issue regulations concerning procedures for the disposal, physical destruction or other disposition of public records containing social security numbers. The procedures shall include all reasonable steps to destroy such documents by (i) shredding, (ii) erasing, or (iii) otherwise modifying the social security numbers in those records to make them unreadable or undecipherable by any means.

2. Issue regulations and guidelines designed to facilitate the creation, preservation, storage, filing, reformatting, management, and destruction of public records by agencies. Such regulations shall mandate procedures for records management and include recommendations for the creation, retention, disposal, or other disposition of public records.

B. The State Library Board may establish advisory committees composed of persons with expertise in the matters under consideration to assist the Library Board in developing regulations and guidelines.

§ 42.1-85. Records Management Program; agencies to cooperate; agencies to designate records officer.

A. The Library of Virginia shall administer a records management program for the application of efficient and economical methods for managing the life-cycle of public records consistent with regulations and guidelines promulgated by the State Library Board, including operation of a records center or centers. The Library of Virginia shall establish procedures and techniques for the effective management of public records, make continuing surveys of records and records keeping practices, and recommend improvements in current records management practices, including the use of space, equipment, software, and supplies employed in creating, maintaining, and servicing records.

B. Any agency with public records shall cooperate with The Library of Virginia in conducting surveys. Each agency shall establish and maintain an active, continuing program for the economical and efficient management of the records of such agency. The agency shall be responsible for ensuring that its public records are preserved, maintained, and accessible throughout their lifecycle, including converting and migrating electronic records as often as necessary so that information is not lost due to hardware, software, or media obsolescence or deterioration. Any public official who converts or migrates an electronic record shall ensure that it is an accurate copy of the original record. The converted or migrated record shall have the force of the original.

C. Each state agency and political subdivision of this Commonwealth shall designate as many as appropriate, but at least one, records officer to serve as a liaison to The Library of Virginia for the purposes of implementing and overseeing a records management program, and coordinating legal disposition, including destruction, of obsolete records. Designation of state agency records officers shall be by the respective agency head. Designation of a records officer for political subdivisions shall be by the governing body or chief administrative official of the political subdivision. Each entity responsible for designating a records officer shall provide The Library of Virginia with the name and contact information of the designated records officer, and shall ensure that such information is updated in a timely manner in the event of any changes.

D. The Library of Virginia shall develop and make available training and education opportunities concerning the requirements of and compliance with this chapter for records officers in the Commonwealth.

§ 42.1-86. Essential public records; security recovery copies; disaster plans.

A. In cooperation with the head of each agency, The Library of Virginia shall establish and maintain a program for the selection and preservation of essential public records. The program shall provide for preserving, classifying, arranging, and indexing essential public records so that such records are made available to the public. The program shall provide for making recovery copies or designate as recovery copies existing copies of such essential public records.

B. Recovery copies shall meet quality standards established by The Library of Virginia and shall be made by a process that accurately reproduces the record and forms a durable medium. A recovery copy may also be made by creating a paper or electronic copy of an original electronic record. Recovery copies shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as the original record and shall be as admissible in evidence as the original record whether the original record is in existence or not. Recovery copies shall be preserved in the place and manner prescribed by the State Library Board and the Governor.

C. The Library of Virginia shall develop a plan to ensure preservation of public records in the event of disaster or emergency as defined in § 44-146.16. This plan shall be coordinated with the Department of Emergency Management and copies shall be distributed to all agency heads. The plan shall be reviewed and updated at least once every five years. The personnel of the Library shall be responsible for coordinating emergency recovery operations when public records are affected. Each agency shall ensure that a plan for the protection and recovery of public records is included in its comprehensive disaster plan.

§ 42.1-86.01. Records may be retained in electronic medium.

Notwithstanding any provision of law requiring a public record to be retained in a tangible medium, an agency may retain any public record in an electronic medium, provided that the record remains accessible for the duration of its retention schedule and meets all other requirements of this chapter. Nothing herein shall affect any law governing the retention of exhibits received into evidence in a criminal case in any court.

§ 42.1-86.1. Disposition of public records.

A. No agency shall sell or give away public records. No agency shall destroy or discard a public record unless (i) the record appears on a records retention and disposition schedule approved pursuant to § 42.1-82 and the record's retention period has expired; (ii) a certificate of records destruction, as designated by the Librarian of Virginia, has been properly completed and approved by the agency's designated records officer; and (iii) there is no litigation, audit, investigation, request for records pursuant to the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (§ 2.2-3700 et seq.), or renegotiation of the relevant records retention and disposition schedule pending at the expiration of the retention period for the applicable records series. After a record is destroyed or discarded, the agency shall forward the original certificate of records destruction to The Library of Virginia.

B. No agency shall destroy any public record created before 1912 without first offering it to The Library of Virginia.

C. Each agency shall ensure that records created after July 1, 2006 and authorized to be destroyed or discarded in accordance with subsection A, are destroyed or discarded in a timely manner in accordance with the provisions of this chapter; provided, however, such records that contain identifying information as defined in clauses (iii) through (ix), or clause (xii) of subsection C of § 18.2-186.3, shall be destroyed within six months of the expiration of the records retention period.

§ 42.1-87. Archival public records.

A. Custodians of archival public records shall keep them in fire-resistant, environmentally controlled, physically secure rooms designed to ensure proper preservation and in such arrangement as to be easily accessible. Current public records should be kept in the buildings in which they are ordinarily used. It shall be the duty of each agency to consult with The Library of Virginia to determine the best manner in which to store long-term or archival electronic records. In entering into a contract with a third-party storage provider for the storage of public records, an agency shall require the third-party to cooperate with The Library of Virginia in complying with rules and regulations promulgated by the Board.

B. Public records deemed unnecessary for the transaction of the business of any state agency, yet deemed to be of archival value, may be transferred with the consent of the Librarian of Virginia to the custody of the Library of Virginia.

C. Public records deemed unnecessary for the transaction of the business of any county, city, or town, yet deemed to be of archival value, shall be stored either in The Library of Virginia or in the locality, at the decision of the local officials responsible for maintaining public records. Archival public records shall be returned to the locality upon the written request of the local officials responsible for maintaining local public records. Microfilm shall be stored in The Library of Virginia but the use thereof shall be subject to the control of the local officials responsible for maintaining local public records.

D. Record books deemed archival should be copied or repaired, renovated or rebound if worn, mutilated, damaged or difficult to read. Whenever the public records of any public official are in need of repair, restoration or rebinding, a judge of the court of record or the head of such agency or political subdivision of the Commonwealth may authorize that the records in need of repair be removed from the building or office in which such records are ordinarily kept, for the length of time necessary to repair, restore or rebind them, provided such restoration and rebinding preserves the records without loss or damage to them. Before any restoration or repair work is initiated, a treatment proposal from the contractor shall be submitted and reviewed in consultation with The Library of Virginia. Any public official who causes a record book to be copied shall attest it and shall certify an oath that it is an accurate copy of the original book. The copy shall then have the force of the original.

E. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to divest agency heads of the authority to determine the nature and form of the records required in the administration of their several departments or to compel the removal of records deemed necessary by them in the performance of their statutory duty.

§ 42.1-88. Custodians to deliver all records at expiration of term; penalty for noncompliance.

Any custodian of any public records shall, at the expiration of his term of office, appointment or employment, deliver to his successor, or, if there be none, to The Library of Virginia, all books, writings, letters, documents, public records, or other information, recorded on any medium kept or received by him in the transaction of his official business; and any such person who shall refuse or neglect for a period of ten days after a request is made in writing by the successor or Librarian of Virginia to deliver the public records as herein required shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor.

§ 42.1-89. Petition and court order for return of public records not in authorized possession.

The Librarian of Virginia or his designated representative such as the State Archivist or any public official who is the custodian of public records in the possession of a person or agency not authorized by the custodian or by law to possess such public records shall petition the circuit court in the city or county in which the person holding such records resides or in which the materials in issue, or any part thereof, are located for the return of such records. The court shall order such public records be delivered to the petitioner upon finding that the materials in issue are public records and that such public records are in the possession of a person not authorized by the custodian of the public records or by law to possess such public records. If the order of delivery does not receive compliance, the plaintiff shall request that the court enforce such order through its contempt power and procedures.

§ 42.1-90. Seizure of public records not in authorized possession.

A. At any time after the filing of the petition set out in § 42.1-89 or contemporaneous with such filing, the person seeking the return of the public records may by ex parte petition request the judge or the court in which the action was filed to issue an order directed at the sheriff or other proper officer, as the case may be, commanding him to seize the materials which are the subject of the action and deliver the same to the court under the circumstances hereinafter set forth.

B. The judge aforesaid shall issue an order of seizure upon receipt of an affidavit from the petitioner which alleges that the material at issue may be sold, secreted, removed out of this Commonwealth or otherwise disposed of so as not to be forthcoming to answer the final judgment of the court respecting the same; or that such property may be destroyed or materially damaged or injured if permitted to remain out of the petitioner's possession.

C. The aforementioned order of seizure shall issue without notice to the respondent and without the posting of any bond or other security by the petitioner.

§ 42.1-90.1. Auditing.

The Librarian may, in his discretion, conduct an audit of the records management practices of any agency. Any agency subject to the audit shall cooperate and provide the Library with any records or assistance that it requests. The Librarian shall compile a written summary of the findings of the audit and any actions necessary to bring the agency into compliance with this chapter. The summary shall be a public record, and shall be made available to the agency subject to the audit, the Governor, and the chairmen of the House and Senate Committees on General Laws and the House Appropriations and Senate Finance Committees of the General Assembly.
